THE END OF IT ALL

Nixon Is Studying Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon is considering asking Congress for a temporary tax increase of up to 10 per cent —refundable later —as a tool to fight inflation, the White House said today.

Melvin R. Laird, Nixon's chief domestic adviser, said a tax boost was one of two proposals recommended to the President by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, to deal with inflation. The other proposal concerns a variable text credit of 4 to 15 per cent.

Burns told Congress yesterday that he had discussed the tax matters with Nixon at a meeting Tuesday and that the President indicated "considerable sympathy."

Laird stressed that no decision had been reached but added, "These particular economic tools are important and they are being given consideration by the President."

Laird, speaking with reporters at the White House, said Nixon had ordered the Treasury Department, his budget analysts and the White House Domestic Council to make detailed studies and to report back to him at an unspecified date.

Congress might not be able to act on such legislation this year, he said, but "there is no reason the President of the United States should not be considering these new ideas and perhaps even be proposing them."

The deferred tax would have the effect of removing income from the economy during inflationary periods ad returning it, for example, three or four years later when it would not have an adverse impact, Laird said.

He said the tool, never before used in the United States but in use in some European countries, would affect both corporate and individual income taxes. He said the rate under discussion was 10 per cent of the normal tax.

This means if the 10 per cent deferred tax were adopted, persons who now pay 20 per cent of their income in taxes would pay an additional 10 per cent of that rate, or a total of 22 per cent.

Burns disclosed Nixon's interest in a tax rise during testimony before the House Banking Committee.

The pipe-smoking economist said inflation cannot be controlled solely through the tight-money policies the Fed has been pursuing, driving interest rates to historic levels and making mortgage money so scarce the important housing industry faces a depression.

Among the tax increases Burns mentioned in his testimony, and presumably to Nixon, were:

In effect, a compulsory savings program for taxpayers. Income tax rates would rise temporarily but the government would set aside what it collects from the increase, then refund it, with interest, when the economy needs stimulation and inflation is under control.

—A variable investment tax credit ranging between 3 and 15 per cent in place of the existing inflexible 7 per cent credit. The credit allows businessmen to subtract from their federal taxes up to 7 per cent of the cost of new equipment.

Golden Gate Bridge Toll Boost Assured

10 Committee Votes Enough For Passage

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A 50 per cent toll hike on the Golden Gate Bridge on Jan. 1 was assured today with approval of the increase by a majority of bridge directors.

The joint finance-auditing and transportation committee endorsed the hike in a 10-3 vote. The long controversial issue will go before the full 18-member board for formal adoption at 10 a.m. tomorrow in toll plaza offices.

The formal action tomorrow will take 10 votes, a majority apparently assured by today's balloting. An Independent-Journal check of directors who did not serve on the joint committee showed the board lineup 12-6 in favor of the increase.

Marin County's three directors split, with supervisor Michael Wornum and Dean N. Meyer of Mill Valley supporting the increase and San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini opposing it. Bettini said a hike is inevitable but he is not convinced it is necessary yet.

Today's action brushed aside an opinion by San Francisco's city attorney that its nine members on the board had to oppose the increase because that is the policy of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

The toll, if approved tomorrow, will go from 50 to 75 cents for a roundtrip crossing for an automobile, ambulance, hearse, motorcycle or truck with single rear wheels. The toll for an automobile or truck with trailer will go from $1 to $1.50.

The highest toll, for nine-axle vehicles, will go from $8 to $12.

The bridge district's staff estimated the increase will raise an additional $4 million a year.

The staff has been pushing for months for the increase, stressing heavy transit deficits would deplete all reserves by 1977.

The impending red ink had stymied a host of expenditures including the purchase of 32 more commuter buses.

Today's action was opposed by only three members of the audience. Adele Nolan of Mill Valley and Donald A. Wilson, who said they spoke for the Marin Commuters Association, urged delay until another hearing could be held at night so more commuters could attend. Neil Houge of Sausalito asked that motorcycles be exempted because they use less gas and parking space than cars.

Miss Nolan also objected that the directors were "trying to force the people onto the buses."

The increase was endorsed by the Marin County Transit District and People for a Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

San Francisco Supervisor Robert Gonzales objected the staff had provided too little information to justify the increase. He nevertheless predicted a $1 toll will be needed by 1976 to offset further transit deficits.

Larkspur Shopping Center Developers Ready To Move

By BILL ROBERTS

Developers of a proposed regional shopping center in Larkspur last night said they are ready to go ahead with the project without redevelopment funds.

Representatives of the Rouse Company told the city's redevelopment agency they can build an 800,000-square-foot shopping center in the Bon Air area in "the traditional sense, with no need for public money."

In June, 1972, the redevelopment agency committed the city to spend $8 million under the California Redevelopment Act by the sale of tax increment bonds for a redevelopment project including the shopping center.

Larkspur has been in a race with Corte Madera for a regional center and both areas attracted developers with promises of redevelopment money.

George M. Armor III, representing the developer based in Columbia, Md., told the city council, sitting as the redevelopment agency, there has been no comparison of the two sites relative merits.

He said Corte Madera developer Ernest W. Hahn had not brought out comparisons of the two sites and Armor claimed several factors favor the Larkspur site including time.

Whereas the Hahn center would take up to three and a half years after final approval of a fill permit by the Army Corps of Engineers, Armor said the Rouse project could be finished within 18 months after the start of construction.

Cause of the difference in time for the two projects is that Hahn must wait up to 15 months for 500,000 cubic yards of dry fill to settle on the Corte Madera site but no such mas-

PARKING PROBLEM

He Buys A Ticket To Elsewheresville

By PAUL CANE

"You can't fight city hall."

Dean C. Boyd, the San Anselmo tax consultant cited 150 times for illegal overnight street parking, is calling it quits and moving with his wife from Marin County.

Boyd, of 16 Oak Avenue, was recently fined $270 and ordered to attend traffic school for the latest in the long series of parking citations he has received. Just as soon as he can sell his house, he plans to leave for Mendocino County.

"If this is Marin County justice, the hell with it," he said."I'm going somewhere up in the brush country where a person has a few liberties left."

Boyd's tangle with San Anselmo's overnight parking ordinance started three years ago when he began to be cited for leaving his car out on the street. He said he has been charged $1 for most of the tickets by local courts, but the latest batch of 17 has cost him $276.

His gripes with what he calls an unconstitutional ordinance are many. He claims the city's reasons for the law just aren't valid.

"Police officials say that cars must be kept off the street to make way for emergency vehicles," Boyd explains. "That's a lot of bull. You could drive a battleship up Oak Avenue."

City officials also claim that car thefts are prevented when cars stay off the street at night, but Boyd said, "Look at Ross — right across the street from me. They don't have any trouble with car thefts, and you can park on the street there at night. Across the street you're a respected citizen and in San Anselmo you're an arch-criminal."

DEAN C. BOYD
Calling it quits

Boyd also said that the law isn't being enforced equally, and believes that city police are out to get him, ignoring other violators.

The city council, Boyd recalls, refused to even discuss the ordinance or his case at a meeting last November.

"If that's the way the government of San Anselmo works, I don't want any part of it," he concluded with disgust. "It's time to leave."

Marin School Enrollments Drop

Opening day enrollment figures in Marin County public schools was 50,758, down 544 from last year, reports to the county superintendent's office from school districts show.

This was the second year of overall decline despite sharp gains in enrollment in county colleges.

The College of Marin dropped slightly to 7,261 this year from 7,271 but enrollment at the new Indian Valley Colleges was 1,000, making a net gain of 990 over last year at the junior college level.

However, nearly all school districts reported enrollment declines.

Only four of 16 elementary districts reported higher enrollments than last year's opening: Bolinas-Stinson School District, up five; Lincoln, up two; Reed Union, up 13, and Ross, up two.

San Rafael and Tamalpais high school districts reported enrollment losses and all sections of the Novato Unified School District were also down. The Shoreline Unified School District declined on the elementary level but gained one in enrollment at its high school.

All districts were anticipating slightly higher enrollment figures by next week with some students registering late.

By districts, the opening day enrollments as reported to county schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, with last year's figure in parenthesis, are:

ELEMENTARY DISTRICTS — Bolinas-Stinson 215 (210), Dixie 4,112 (4,117), Fairfax 945 (957), Kentfield 1,265 (1,273), Laguna 15 (18), Lagunitas 485 (473), Larkspur 1,450 (1,478), Lincoln 14 (12), Mill Valley, 3,232 (3,403), Nicasio 44 (53), Reed 1,848 (1,835), Ross 493 (491), San Anselmo 1,756 (1,839), San Rafael 4,110 (4,199), Sausalito 486 (496), Union 6 (9).

HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICTS — San Rafael 4,128 (4,146), Tamalpais 5,929 (6,137).

A breakdown in the unified districts shows Novato with 5,413 in elementary schools (kindergarten-sixth grade), down from 6,061 last year; 2,611 in junior high (seventh-to-ninth), down from 2,669 last year, and 2,379 in senior high, down from 2,465. The remainder were in special classes.

In Shoreline, elementary schools (kindergarten-to-eighth grade) dropped to 624 from 639 last year, high school gained to 264 from 263.

Three Arrested And Charged In English Terror Bombings

LONDON (UPI) — Police arrested a Briton and two Irishmen today and charged them in connection with a wave of terror bombings in London and other British cities blamed by Scotland Yard on Irish militants.

The arrests followed explosions in London Monday and yesterday in the worst week of bombing incidents in the capital since the current wave began Aug. 18. At least 22 persons were injured in four blasts.

Scotland Yard officials said the two Irishmen, Denis Doyle, 18, and Patrick Dowling, 37, and Briton David Wyn Owen, 26, were arrested in raids on homes in the industrial city of Birmingham in the English midlands.

Dowling, a laborer, was charged with conspiring "with a person or persons unknown" to cause a bomb explosion in the city between June 1 and Sept. 12.

Doyle, a warehouseman, was charged with stealing a bomb-making textbook from a bookstore. Owen, a carpenter, was charged with stealing electrical tape and clips of the kind used in explosive devices used in the current bombing wave.

All three were remanded in custody pending trial.

Birmingham has been rocked by several bomb explosions in the past several weeks, including two that damaged a bank and another building.

Syrian, Israeli Planes In Dogfight Near Border

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Syrian and Israeli warplanes clashed in a dogfight near the Syrian border today over a Palestinian guerrilla camp, Arab diplomats and the Israeli military command said.

The Israelis claimed they shot down 13 Syrian planes. Arab diplomatic sources in Beirut said two Syrian planes were shot down.

The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said one Israeli warplane was hit and its pilot bailed out into the sea. He was picked up by a rescue helicopter unhurt, the command said.

A Syrian pilot, who bailed out of his plane, also was rescued by an Israeli helicopter, it said.

The Israeli claim of 13 planes downed would be the greatest single destruction of Arab aircraft since the 1967 Six Day War.

The Arab sources said it was believed Palestinian guerrillas maintain bases near Al Mintar, a few miles from the Syrian port of Tartus, where the dogfight took place.

The Israeli command did not say what type of Israeli aircraft were involved in the dogfight. It said only that 13 Russian-built Syrian air force MIG21s were shot down.

The dogfight brought to 59 the number of Syrian warplanes downed since the 1967 war, according to Israeli military records. It was the first reported loss of an Israeli plane since Sept. 17, 1971, when an Egyptian surface-to-air missile shot down a Stratocruiser 14 miles behind the Israeli frontline at the Suez Canal, killing seven of the eight crewmen aboard.

Today's clash was the first reported aerial battle with Syria since last Jan. 8, when Israeli aircraft shot down six Syrian warplanes in a dogfight.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Still Hopeful

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock says he is "still hopeful there will be and can be a settlement" with Chrysler Corp. on a new contract before tomorrow night's strike deadline.

Emerging from an 11-hour session with top company officers yesterday, Woodcock and Vice President Douglas A. Fraser said there was a feeling that "progress has been made" toward a new contract for 127,500 U.S. and Canadian auto workers. If there is no agreement in principle by 11:59 p.m. tomorrow, there will be no extension of the present contract and there would be a strike, Woodcock said.

Trade Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is sending Henry A. Kissinger to urge Congress not to make Moscow's treatment of Jews an issue in deciding whether to grant favorable trade terms to the Soviet Union.

The closed meeting between the secretary of state-designate and the House Ways and Means Committee will occur next Tuesday. The committee agreed to put off until then a vote on the trade issue.

Martha's Views

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Martha Mitchell said today the Senate Watergate Committee probably will not call her as a witness because the committee is trying to protect President Nixon.

"You know why they don't want me to testify?" she asked UPI reporter Helen Thomas in an early morning phone call. "They don't want to crucify President Nixon. Don't kid yourself — they're trying to go easy on him."

She also said, "I think the Mafia was involved in the President's reelection campaign and I think Nixon was involved with the Mafia." She did not elaborate.

Eavesdropping

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In his first detailed view on foreign surveillance, Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson says he will continue to authorize electronic eavesdropping for the purposes of national security. He said, however, the situations which justify such surveillance must be very carefully controlled.

Richardson made his views known yesterday in a letter to chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was commenting on the issue of electronic surveillance without judicial warrants which arose at the confirmation hearings of Secretary of State-designate Henry Kissinger.

Street Search

BELFAST (UPI) — A heavy concentration of troops blocked several streets in the Roman Catholic Lower Falls area of Belfast today, searching passersby and guarding against renewed rioting, an army spokesman said.

Rioters yesterday hijacked buses and trucks and battled with police to protest an incident in which an army armored car hit a taxi, injuring the driver, the spokesman said.

Troops fired rubber bullets and tear gas and cleared the streets within two hours, the army spokesman said.

'Plan Of Action'

SAIGON (UPI) — The government warned today of a "plan for action" against Communist airfields and missile sites in South Vietnam unless the installations are dismantled.

The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry, in a statement broadcast by Radio Hanoi, said the South Vietnamese government would be "duly punished" if it tried to take action against the bases.

Castro Welcome

SAIGON (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro received a tumultuous welcome from government leaders and thousands of civilians when he arrived in Hanoi yesterday, Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency reported today.

Banners, with welcoming greetings in Spanish and Vietnamese, decorated both the airport and the streets leading to the official guest house where Castro is staying.

Twin Attacks

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Rebel troops, reportedly pushed out of the battered provincial capital of Kompong Cham, launched twin attacks today against government positions around Phnom Penh.

Cambodian commanders reported driving the last guerrillas out of Kompong Cham yesterday and said the 13-day siege of country's third largest city was over.

'War Games'

ABOARD THE USS KITTY HAWK (UPI) — The largest naval armada assembled since the Vietnam cease-fire began complex "war games" in the Pacific yesterday. It involved four nations, 23 ships and 14,000 men.

Heavily armed ships and planes from the United States, Australia, Canada and New Zealand are participating in the 11-day exercise, designed to test and improve combat readiness in the event of another war.

FRIENDLY PAT — French President Georges Pompidou pats a Chinese tot on the head as she claps her hands during the French chief's visit to the Temple of Heaven in Peking. Pompidou is in Peking for talks with Chinese leaders on world problems. (UPI Telephoto)

Pompidou, Chou Confer On Many World Topics

PEKING (UPI) — French President Georges Pompidou conferred for three hours today with Chinese Premier Chou enLai on major international problems ranging from Southeast Asia to the balance of power in Europe.

Pompidou then invited Chou to a private dinner at his Peking residence in the Jade Abyss Pool Park to carry on their talks.

French Foreign Minister Michel Jobert arrived from Paris to join the final part of today's talks, held in the first floor room of the Great Hall of the People.

Diplomatic sources said Jobert told Pompidou and Chou about the decision by the Ministerial Council of the European Economic Community earlier this week to cooperate more closely in the political field.

Jobert had attended the ministerial session which laid down the basic European principles for talks with the United States on revamped transatlantic cooperation.

French and Chinese officials said Pompidou and Chou covered a broad range of topics from Southeast Asia to East-West relations, the situation in Europe and the Common Market.

Pompidou, the first West European chief of state to visit China since 1949, spent nearly two hours in private yesterday with Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

French delegation spokesmen said the meeting at Mao's carefully-guarded villa on a corner of the former Imperial Forbidden City dealt with "current and evolving world problems."

According to the New China News Agency, Chou introduced Pompidou to Chairman Mao.

Indictment Of Colson Said Likely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The lawyer for former White House Special Counsel Charles W. Colson has informed the Senate Watergate Committee that Colson may be indicted in the Ellsberg case, according to committee sources.

As a result, the committee may not call Colson, 42, a former Nixon political operative, to testify, as originally planned, when it resumes public hearings Sept. 24.

The sources said that David I. Shapiro, Colson's attorney and law partner, informed the committee Tuesday that Colson was a "target witness" for the second Watergate federal grand jury and may be indicted. They said Shapiro asked that Colson not testify.

Shapiro had no comment on the report. But in an angry statement issued by telephone just before midnight he said:

"Whoever it was, senator or staff member, who leaked that story to the press today, is the most vicious bastard since the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy. I challenge the Ervin committee at the opening of its hearings, whenever that may be, to put each senator and each staff member under oath before 20 million TV viewers in an effort to determine who it was who so blatantly violated Mr. Colson's constitutional rights."

Author's Views On Growing Old

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Author and essayist Susan Sontag thinks women have a much tougher time than men coping with growing old.

"It is a humiliating process for all people, but it is experienced by women with distaste and shame," Mrs. Sontag told delegates to the annual Conference on Aging at the University of Michigan Tuesday night.

"Men are not under the same relentless pressures to remain physically attractive, for example. While a man perceives of his face and body as a unit, a woman sees them as separate entities," she said.

Commitment Said Needed On Cancer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The United States must commit itself to supporting scientists if the cancer problem is to be solved, a former member of the President's Cancer advisory Panel said yesterday.

Dr. Robert A. Good, president of Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, said "Science is ready for a full commitment. It should have available all of the resources that are needed."

Watergate's Lineup Over 'Dirty Tricks'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Murray Chotiner and Dwight L. Chapin, close political associates of President Nixon, are expected to be called for testimony before the Senate Watergate Committee during its "dirty tricks" investigation, it was learned today.

A source close to the committee described appearances by both men as "safe bets" when the committee hears testimony on alleged attempts to sabotage Democratic presidential candidates in 1972.

The seven-member panel voted partial immunity from prosecution yesterday to Donald H. Segretti, a California lawyer, who is under indictment in Florida in connection with alleged political sabotage —a phoney letter on the stationery of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.—in a primary election.

Under the grant of immunity, Segretti would not be prosecuted for testimony given the committee. But he could still be prosecuted if evidence against him was gathered independently of the Senate testimony.

Chapin, who resigned early this year as Nixon's appointments secretary, has been named as Segretti's contact at the White House while Segretti served as an alleged undercover espionage operative.

Chotiner has acknowledged hiring Mrs. Lucianne Goldberg and Seymour Freidin as $1,000-a-week "reporters" to travel with Democratic presidential candidate George S. McGovern and report on his campaign activities.

Troops Alerted

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — The Laotian military was ordered on alert today to guard against any attempt to sabotage the signing of a peace agreement tomorrow with the procommunist Pathet Lao.

Nixon Tape Victory Is Predicted

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) —Supreme Court prognosticator Harold J. Spaeth, whose computer had a perfect year last term, predicts the Supreme Court will take the side of President Nixon in the battle of the tapes.

The Michigan State University political science professor began predicting the outcome of Supreme Court cases in the spring of 1970, not long after the court began to take on a more conservative image under Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

He had only limited success at first because of the lack of available data on the new court structure that he could feed his trusty computer. But since the beginning of 1971, Spaeth has correctly predicted the outcome of 44 out of 44 cases before the court.

Riles Declares Lunch Program Is Threatened

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State schools superintendent Wilson Riles warned yesterday an "astonishing rise" in food prices threatens California educational lunch program and could mean hungry pupils in classrooms.

"Needy children as well as many of the children of middle class families won't get enough good food to eat unless we in Sacramento and Washington act with a sense of urgency," Riles told a news confernce marking the beginning of the school year.

School districts now are inclined to "hang in there" for a month or two in the hope that help is coming, said Riles, pledging his support to keep lunch programs operating.

Specifically, he called for legislative passage of a $28 million state aid bill (SB1264) by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, and an increase in federal lunch subsidies.

Riles also said he would contact U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz " to ask for action to give priority to the children—along with elderly who are on fixed incomes — release of protein-rich commodities and relief from soaring prices."

The superintendent noted that just months ago his department boasted that half a million children in public schools were receiving nutritious lunches free or at reduce rates.

Another "haunting problem" this year, Riles said, is meeting educational needs of handicapped students.

"The blunt truth is that we have failed in our responsibility those children," he told newsmen.

More than a thousand families of handicapped youngsters have applied for service in local development centers this term, Riles said. They won't get schooling, he warned, unless the Legislature, before it adjourns this week, passes a $3.3 million measure (AB919) by Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, to expand the centers.

Riles declared it would be "contrary to law" for the handicapped youngsters to have to stay home.

"Every child in California is entitled to an education," he stated.

Arrest Made Just In Time

LEBANON, N.H. (UPI) — John J. O'Malley, 28, of Boston, was arrested by police yesterday as he sat reading a flight manual in the cockpit of an Air New England twin-engine plane at the Lebanon Regional Airport.

He was charged with trying to steal the airplane and jailed in lieu of $3,000.

Fighting Erupts In Santiago Again

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Heavy firing broke out in the vicinity of the Defense Ministry and the presidential palace today only half an hour before a 45-hour curfew was to be lifted by the military junta which overthrew the government of socialist President Salvador Allende.

The firing was launched from the Defense Ministry toward the north, in the direction of the partially destroyed presidential palace.

It was not immediately possible to determine the combatants, or the target of the machine gun and artillery fire.

The firing stopped as quickly as it had started, shortly before noon. Curfew was lifted at noon, as scheduled, but the military radio said a 20-block area in midcity, including the UPI office, would remained sealed off.

The firing pinned this correspondent to the floor of the UPI bureau directly across the street from the Defense Ministry and only a few yards from the presidential palace.

(In Mexico City, the government announced that the family of Allende, who died in the military coup on Tuesday, had been granted asylum.)

Before the new firing flared in the middle of the capital, it appeared that the ruling military government was in full control of the country.

The junta took office last night after using warplanes, tanks and artillery to crush resistance by die-hard Allende followers.

Unofficial reports said "at least" 1,000 persons had met death in the revolt. Government sources declined to make even an estimate of the dead, including their casualties. Military sources said 3,000 persons had been detained in the big seaport of Valparaiso and were being kept on ships in the harbor pending investigation.

The junta announced yesterday that Allende had committed suicide.

Gen Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, the army chief, was sworn in as president of the four-man junta which led the armed revolt against Allende. Other junta members were heads of the navy, air force and national police. A new cabinet comprised of 13 military men and two civillians was also sworn into office.

Nod Given To Plan Watchdogs

The City-County Planning Council of Marin last night decided on a nucleus for the long debated review agency that would watchdog compliance to the Marin Countywide General Plan.

Each of Marin's cities will be asked to approve appointment of its elected representative on the city-county council to a committee that will draft specific operating rules for the review agency, according to Sol S. Silver of the county planning department.

Council thinking is that the review agency itself will have advisory rather than enforcement powers, and probably will consist only of elected officials from the cities and the county, Silver explained.

Powers of the review panel have been the bone of contention with cities objecting to letting the agency have veto powers over developments within city limits, even if they affect other cities or unincorporated areas or conflict with the countywide plan. Several plans to base review agency membership on city populations and other factors were suggested and rebuffed during numerous discussions over the last two years.

Once the panel proposed last night completes its draft of operating rules, the joint powers agreement under which the long-range countywide plan was created can be modified to fit review agency operations, Silver reported.

The City-County Planning Council of Marin also:

WASTE — Agreed to serve as the county's solid waste advisory policy committee, turning technical studies on waste problems into proposed policy for the county and cities.

TRANSPORTATION — Referred to the planning council's planning subcommittee, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission's study on Bay Area transport problems.

LEGISLATION — Decided to review and endorse at the council's Oct. 10 meeting, the most favorable of many bills on housing and open space now before the California Legislature.

ADJOURNED — To 8 p.m. Oct. 10 in the Marin Civic Center. The council's executive committee will meet at 8 p.m. Sept. 26.

Complaint Eyed On Muir Beach Mail Delivery

The Muir Beach Improvement Association decided last night to ask the Sausalito postmaster to a future meeting so members can complain about their mail service.

According to Janet Stump, association member, mail often is not delivered or is sent back to its place of origin. A delivery man who handles the service on a contract basis with the Sausalito post office insists that residents paint their house numbers and names on their mailboxes, or he refuses to deliver their mail, Mrs. Stump said.

The association also decided that it will hold a candidates night at its Oct. 10 meeting for those running for seats on the Muir Beach Community Services District board.

Hearing Slated In Theft Case

A San Rafael man yesterday denied burglarizing a Marin City house and forging another person's signature twice on credit card receipts.

A preliminary hearing for Isaac Felder Jr., 19, of 12 Pilgrim Way, was set for next Thursday by Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court.

Felder was arrested Monday by a Marin sheriff's deputy who saw him in Marin City and remembered that an arrest warrant was pending against him.

The warrant charges Felder with burglarizing the Amanda Griffin home in Marin City and using a stolen credit card to buy gasoline at a Strawberry car wash on two occasions.

Innocent Plea In Pot Growth

A preliminary hearing for Robert Paul Meanley, 24, who denied the accusation, will be set Sept. 21. If Allen George Nikitin, 25, joins Meanley in pleading innocent, a hearing date will be set for him as well.

Fairfax police said they saw a lone marijuana plant growing a container on a sundeck when they went to the pair's house at 224 Bolinas Road Tuesday to discuss a parking problem.

Both men have been released on $500 bail.

Case Against Mayor Halted

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Assault and battery charges against Mayor Ralph J. Perk were dismissed yesterday by a judge who said the city did not establish its case.

Perk was accused of grabbing a policeman's badge and shirt and shaking him during an argument at the end of a City Council meeting July 23.

sive filling is needed in Larkspur, Armor said.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon pointed out that public comparison of the two projects had been hampered because Rouse had not submitted its plans for public scrutiny. Brixon noted that a drawing of the scaled-down Hahn project appeared yesterday in the Independent-Journal and he wondered why Rouse had not publicized its activities.

Armor said his company would release its plan Oct. 1, along with an environmental impact report. He said his company traditionally proceeds cautiously and does not want to unveil a plan until "we can totally back it up 100 per cent."

Three Corte Madera councilmen face recall Sept. 18 for backing the Hahn center continually on 3-2 council votes.

Armor said their recall would be a severe blow to Hahn and could actually stop his project. But he emphasized Rouse would not halt its efforts if the recall fails and Hahn retains majority backing on the council.

Mayor Alfred J Malvino asked if Rouse could attract chain stores other than those committed to the Hahn project and proceed ahead of the Corte Madera center.

Armor said his firm could probably attract other major chain stores but the three which are "morally committed' to Hahn offer a stronger consumer attraction than any others that could be assembled in Northern California.

Councilman William G. Fleckles asked Armor what his company wanted from the redevelopment agency "short of pulling voting levers down in Corte Madera." Armor said his company wished only continued endorsement for the project.

Councilmen then voted unanimously to endorse the concept of the project and commended "the innovative idea of not using public funds."

"That's much better than a 3-2 vote, gentlemen," Brixon said, referring to Hahn's 3-2 backing from the Corte Madera Town Council.

Biography Of Senator Sam Is Scheduled

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) —Indiana University Press will publish a book to be titled "Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin."

The biography was authorized by Ervin, D-N.C., before he gained national fame as chairman of the Senate Watergate Committee. The publishers said yesterday it will be written by Paul R. Clancy, a Washington correspondent for the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer.

The book will deal with Ervin's relationship with his parents and friends during his boyhood in Morgantown, N.C., his pranks, and his love of poetry.

Slice Pledged In Sub Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Military spending critics have promised a major effort in the Senate to slice this year's budget for the Trident submarine program.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., said yesterday he would offer an amendment to pare funding for Trident, the largest and most expensive submarine ever built, from $1.5 billion to $642 million when the military procurement bill comes to the floor next week.

McIntyre's chances are believed to be excellent despite President Nixon's warning that he would veto any defense bill that cuts too deeply into his military requests.

13 Youths Arrested; Burglaries

A gang of 13 Petaluma boys believed responsible for a string of 20 burglaries has been arrested by Petaluma police.

Arrested this week on suspicion of burglary and malicious mischief were three 15-year-olds, six 14-year-olds, three 13-year-olds and a 12-year-old.

Police withheld their names on the advice of the Sonoma County District Attorney's office. All were released to their parents to appear in juvenile court.

Police said the burglaries date back to 1971 and include six break-ins at McNear School, several at the McNear Park snack bar, Grant School, Petaluma Junior High School and Petaluma Sanitary Disposal Co Officers said the youngsters had more than 100 keys to local businesses and schools that had been stolen from a garbage collection office.

The burglaries totaled more than $600 in loss and $200 in damage Officers said some property was recovered, but that much of the loot had been candy and food that was consumed by the youngsters.

Two Appealing Duplex Vote

Two Sausalito residents last night appealed a decision by the community appearances advisory board approving final working drawings and landscaping for a duplex planned on the Sausalito ridgeline.

The objection by Linda Bonnett and Sanford Autumn against an application by William Weissberg to build a duplex at 9 Marion Avenue is the first in memory for an advisory board approval of a project.

Mullin Enters Innocent Plea

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Convicted mass slayer Herbert W. Mullin pleaded innocent yesterday in Superior Court to a charge of fatally stabbing a Roman Catholic priest in a confessional.

Mullin, 26, a onetime high school honor student who turned to drugs, admitted he killed the Rev Henri Tomei of St. Mary's Church of Los Gatos Nov 2 during his trial for the slaying of 10 people.

However, he pleaded not guilty to killing the priest at his arraignment before Santa Clara County Superior Judge William A. Ingram.

State Stashes Riot Weapons

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state has stashed a half million dollars worth of modern riot control equipment at 14 secret locations in California for use by law enforcement officers in the event of large disturbances.

Alex R. Cunningham, assistant director of the state Office of Emergency Services, yesterday said his agency purchased the equipment with $484,000 in federal Safe Streets Act funds.

Florida Man Faces Jail In Heroin Case

A Florida man could be fined up to $2,500 and spend a year in jail for possessing heroin as part of a plea bargain struck in Marin Superior Court.

Andrew Jay Winkelman, 30, of Tampa, originally charged with possessing the drug for sale, pleaded guilty Friday to simple possession before Judge Charles Read Best in superior court.

Winkelman, who will be sentenced Oct. 1, was arrested April 23 at a Corte Madera motel by Marin sheriff's officers, who said they found a plastic bag of heroin in his pocket and a revolver and drug paraphernalia in his room.

Equal Rights Ratification Seen By 1976

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — White House assistant Jill Ruckelshaus, wife of acting Deputy Atty Gen. William Ruckelshaus, predicts the Equal Rights for Women (ERA Amendment to the U.S. Constitution will be ratified by the states before 1976.

"It took Congress 50 years of discussion and hearings to pass the ERA," said Mrs. Ruckelshaus, an assistant to presidential adviser Anne Armstrong. "It is not surprising to me that the states did not rush to pass this. "I really think it will be ratified in another two or three years. I think the discussion process is good."

A Long Way From A Record

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI) —Twelve high school students who thought they set a world record by playing Monopoly for 127 hours, 34 minutes learned they were 600 hours short.

The 1973 Guinness Book of World Records, they were advised by the makers of the game, was in error in listing the record at 127 hours, 30 minutes.

"The actual record for continuous Monopoly play by an unlimited number of participants is 820 hours. set in Danville. Calif., in 1971" a spokesman for Parker Brothers Co. said yesterday

Guinness editors have been advised and will correct the record, the spokesman said

Extra Water Seen From New Wells

New wells in Rohnert Park could add to Petaluma's water supply, the Petaluma Water Commission was told yesterday

Commission secretary Kay Hagen said members heard the Sonoma County Water Agency is negotiating with Rohnert Park to drill two new wells that could produce as much as two million gallons of water per day

County engineers hope the extra water can meet the demands of Southern Sonoma residents until new wells are drilled and operating on the Russian River.

Cost for the wells was estimated at $160,000. Vmmissioners set a special meeting with water agency engineers for Sept. 26 at 4 p.m. at city hall to get details of the plan and what costs would be for Petaluma.

Plea Changed To Guilty In Burglary

A San Francisco man, who formerly denied burglarizing a Sausalito boutique, has changed his plea to guilty in Marin Superior Court.

John Moissant, 26, made the switch Tuesday in exchange for a pledge by Judge Charles Read Best that he will receive no more than a year in jail.

Best also dismissed a charge of being a convicted felon in possession of a concealed weapon.

Moissant is to be sentenced Oct. 9, along with Alice Beatrice Darby. 22, of San Francisco, who on Friday admitted taking part in the burglary.

Employee Bill Is Shelved By Moretti

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti yesterday shelved for this year his ambitious proposal giving California's 1.1 million government workers the right to bargain collectively and strike if necessary.

Marty Coren, press spokesman for the Democratic gubernatorial contender, said, "We're not going to take it up this year."

The bill (AB1243) is before the Senate Public Employment Committee, which is dominated by Republicans 3-2. Gov. Ronald Reagan adamantly opposes to the measure.

Coren said there wasn't enough support currently in the Senate for Moretti's proposal, which narrowly passed the Assembly, 41-31, last month.

Under the rules for the Legislature's new two-year session Moretti will have all of next year to work to win Senate passage of the bill. That could involve the legislation more heavily in the 1974 Democratic gubernatorial campaign.

Opponents of the measure have said it would lead to more strikes, higher taxes and a loss of citizen influence on negotiations between governmental bodies and workers.

But Moretti said there were 30 strikes by public employes last year in California and his bill could help to avert work stoppages by establishing procedures for collective bargaining.

Under the Van Nuys Democrats measure, a three-member public employment relations board would be appointed to administer collective bargaining. The bill permits "agency shop" employe unions, requiring all workers to join or pay an equivalent service fee.

It establishes procedures for bargaining and provides strikes can be broken by court order if a citizen can show that "health and safety is endangered."

Moretti said that clause would effectively bar strikes by policemen and firemen.

Returned Wallet Provides Lesson

FALLBROOK, Calif. (UPI) — A teen-ager in this town near San Diego learned honesty is a good policy and another man had his faith in humanity restored.

Kent Bergstrom, 39, Fallbrook, lost his wallet containing $1,031 in cash, a $321 payroll check and numerous credit cards during a round of golf at Fallbrook Country Coub.

Bergstrom, who said he was glad to know "there are a few honest people left in the world," gave Brett a $150 reward.

Magee Plans To Fast Until Demands Met

Convict Ruchell Magee — who has refused for 36 days to eat meals served in the prison dining room — has declared that he is on a hunger strike until officials act on his demand for a speedy trial.

Prison officials, however, report that it appears to be less a case of a hunger strike, than a substitution of canteen food (crackers, peanut butter, candy) for regular meals.

According to prison information officer William D. Nyberg, if Magee is relying on canteen food given him by fellow inmates, it is sustaining him. Nyberg said a medical assistant looks at Magee daily and a doctor examines him weekly. He is reported suffering no ill effects.

Magee is due to be retried in San Jose on kidnapping charges resulting from the 1970 courthouse shootout in which Judge Harold Haley and three others were killed. A mistrial was declared in his first trial, when jurors could not agree on a verdict.

Magee issued a statement yesterday charging prison officials with "engineering a conspiracy" to keep him from pursuing his legal defense. The former co-defendant with Angela Davis called his food protest a "solitary slave strike."

A state appeals court in San Francisco Tuesday rejected Magee's claim that he should not face another trial for his alleged part in the gunbattle that took four lives.

Magee's attorney, Robert Carrow, said he will appeal Tuesday's court decision.

Heroin Case To Superior Court; Hearing Monday

A San Rafael man has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on a felony charge of possessing heroin after a municipal court judge decided not to dismiss the count.

John David Anderson's attorney argued Tuesday that his client has been denied a speedy trial and asked Baty to throw out the case, on which Anderson originally was arrested last November.

But the judge refused to dismiss the charge because, he said, the dismissal motion already had been heard and rejected by another judge.

Anderson, accused of possessing heroin when San Rafael police found him slumped behind the wheel of a car in that city Nov. 15, is to appear in superior court Monday.

Hearing Aid For Phone Users Bared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hard-of-hearing telephone consumers will have an adapter by 1974 that will allow them to use a new type of phone receiver, according to American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

In a statement, the company said the unit, to be sold at cost, "will work with any of the present Bell System phones or those of the future. It will also work with independent telephone company and foreign pones."

The question came up Tuesday before the Senate Aging Committee, which is conducting an inquiry into hearing aids for the elderly.

Mrs. Virginia Knauer, White House Assistant for Consumer Affairs, told the committee that conversion to a new type of telephone receiver would be incompatible with hearing aids which require magnetic leakage from the receiver to produce a good signal. The new receiver, first used in the "Trimline" phones, lack such energy, she said.

"As a result, upwards of one million hearing aid users stand to be deprived of the use of the telephone upo conversion to the new type," Mrs. Knauer said.

AT&T said the new adapter, an acoustic coupling device "that can easily be fitted and removed" from a receiver, is small enough to be carried in a pocket or a purse and is gradually being installed in coin phones and will "eventually be used in all phones."

A spokesman for the Office of Consumer Affairs said it would take a wait-and-see attitude toward the new devices.

"It is not the final or only solution," the spokesman said. "Hearing aid users are still concerned about the inconvenience and cost of the device."

Nixon Given Few Soybeans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In discussing the price of soybeans last week, President Nixon offhandedly remarked, "I don't even know what a soybean is." If he looks at his mail from Capitol Hill, Nixon now knows.

Reps. Jerry Litton, D-Mo., and Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., said yesterday they sent samples to the White House — Findley with a suggestion to "try 'em, you'll like 'em."

Litton, who valued his contribution of raw soybeans at 5-½ cents, reminded the President "of the significant ... role soybeans have played in the world, and in the U.S. economy."

Plea Slated In Robbery, Sex Spree

Richard Alan Kisling was scheduled to plead today to six felony charges filed against him yesterday in connection with a robbery and rape spree in Marin last week and this.

The 18-year-old San Rafael youth was picked out of a line-up by the victims of rapes and robberies in Terra Linda and Lucas Valley, the Marin District Attorney's office said.

In addition to the six charges, at least two more probably will be added, possibly today, after Marin sheriff's reports on the Lucas Valley rampage are brought to the district attorney.

Kisling, on parole from the California Youth Authority, where he spent time on a burglary conviction, is accused of two counts each of burglary and armed robbery, plus sex perversion and forcible rape.

Bail was set at $35,000 by Judge David R. Baty, and Kisling remained in custody. A report on his eligibility for release on his own recognizance or on a reduced bail was to be considered today by Baty.

The sex charge and one count each of robbery and burglary stem from invasion of a Terra Linda home Sept. 5. Kisling also is accused of robbing and burglary at the home of Robert Nelson, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and his wife, on Tuesday.

(California law defines burglary as entering the property of another with intent to steal.)

A 15-year-old youth arrested with Kisling in connection with the incident at Nelson's house is being held by juvenile authorities.

Kisling has refused to implicate anyone in the Terra Linda and Lucas Valley incidents, San Rafael police said. Two men were involved in each case.

Novato Civic Foundation To View Projects

The Novato Civic Foundation, a nonprofit corporation, will hold public discussion of its 1973 projects at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Home Savings and Loan Association, 1450 Grant Avenue.

Projects for the year are encouraging picturesque development of East Grant Avenue, making an effort to restore the old Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. station and establish a renewed interest in train travel and encouraging development of a civic center near the present city hall, according to president Herbert W. Cook Jr.

"The foundation is currently engaged in the rejuvenation of the old Post Office building to provide a city art gallery downstairs, with office space for the foundation to be made available upstairs," Cook said.

Self-Evaluation Report Adopted

Marin Community College District trustees last night approved a 165-page self-evaluation which will be the starting point for an accreditation team scheduled to visit the College of Marin next month.

An eleven-member team from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges will use the college's self-evaluation as a starting point in its accreditation evaluation.

The report explains the college's aims and purposes, curriculum, ability to meet needs of disadvantaged persons, instruction, student personnel services including student government, community services and administration. The report tells what specific programs and procedures exist in each respect at the college and how they operate.

The report also deals with criticism of the college made by the last accreditation team in 1970 concerning the college's faculty committee system used by the faculty to deal directly with the district board, bypassing administrators.

The system was criticzed specifically for bypassing the president and dean of instruction in selection and evaluation of faculty and for its slowness in decision making.

The college's reply claims that the system has been streamlined through the elimination of one of seven faculty committees and claims there is no validity to contentions that the system bypasses top administrators in decision making.

The college also says it has solved the problem of evaluation of instruction through recently adopted procedures for evaluation of probationary and permanent instructors. It says absence of adequate orientation and in-service education for faculty criticism have not been fully met but some in-service faculty programs are currently in operation to meet the problem.

Criticism of inadequate library was answered by the new library built on the campus, the report said.

The 1969 accreditation team required as a condition of the college's four-year accreditation through June 30, 1974, that the college's answer to criticism be given before November 30, 1972. That interim report was filed last November and is included in the new report as well.

Johnson said the accreditation team would visit the campus Oct. 8-11 and would make its report public several months after the visit.

He said the college can receive anything from nonaccreditation to five year accreditation.

Herring Bill Is Cleared In Assembly

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill limiting herring catches in San Francisco and Tomales bays passed the Assembly by a 71-0 vote yesterday and was returned to the Senate for concurrence in Assembly amendments.

The bill (SB502) by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, is designed to replace the temporary emergency ban on commercial fishing for herring that he sponsored earlier this year, when a sudden upsurge in commercial fishing threatened to wipe out the herring in the two bays.

The bill orders the state Department of Fish and Game to limit catches to 500 tons in San Francisco Bay and 450 tons in Tomales Bay for at least two years, while making a study of the herring population and deciding desirable permanent limits on the catch.

Commercial fishermen normally catch the herring while they are spawning in the bays. A sudden upsurge in demand for the fish in Asian markets last December threatened to wipe out the species, Behr said.

Behr's bill originally would have limited the Tomales Bay catch to 400 tons; the Assembly upped the figure to 450 tons in a compromise leading to the dropping of a rival bill by Assemblyman Bob Wood, R-Greenfield. Wood's bill would have given the fish and game agency authority to set the limits during the study.

Teachers In Layoffs Have Found New Jobs

Only one of the 17 teachers and other district staff laid off by the Dixie School District last spring is still jobseeking, district trustees learned last night.

The board had made the staff cuts reluctantly, due to reduced funds because of declining enrollment. Supt. Clifford Campbell told the board that enrollment for the fall term is down 200 as predicted.

Campbell reported that the 14 probationary teachers, one temporary teacher and a speech therapist and a teacher-assistant were successfully assisted in finding other jobs, except for those who decided not to continue school work.

The board last night rehired two instructional aides laid off last spring, Patricia Jones at Santa Margarita School for $116 per month for 12 hours a week and Julie Korb at Don Timoteo School, at $137 a month for 15 hours a week.

The Dixie School District Board Also:

OTHER HIRINGS — Employed Judy Zaidner as temporary part-time teacher at Vallecito School for $3,762 for the year; Kenneth Manzella as music teacher-assistant at $4 per hour; Ann Demond as Dixie School library assistant at $339 per month and Elaine Devincenzi as Don Timoteo School library assistant at $371 per month.

BACK PAY — Approved Campbell's recommendation that four teachers receive a total of $4,900 in back pay they were qualified to receive but didn't through miscalculation of their pay scales based on education and experience.

JOINT MEETING — Took no action on a letter from the San Rafael high school and elementary districts, suggesting a joint board meeting on several topics. Campbell was instructed to continue working closely with San Rafael Supt. Donald E. Leisey, and to arrange a joint meeting whenever a specific topic needed discussion by both boards.

DELEGATE — Voted unanimously that former Dixie trustee Dorothy Brown, now a member of the Marin County Board of Education, represent Dixie on the California School Boards Association.

ADVANCE — Routinely approved asking Marin County to lend the district $500,000 in anticipation of property tax revenues expected in December.

MATERNITY LEAVE — Ordered Campbell to continue working with the county counsel to amend the district maternity leave policy to conform with new federal laws.

REZONING — Heard that the Marin County Planning Commission recommended rezoning four school sites in Marinwood and Lucas Valley from planned community district to R-1, as requested by the district.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from tutors Rita Heffron, and Hilda Heller, and Miller Creek School custodian Henry Smith.

FREE SPEECH — Adopted a district policy to conform with state law requiring guarantees of free expression to students on the school grounds.

ADJOURNED — To 8 p.m. Sept. 26 in the district office.

Tiburon Pays $232,000 For First Open Space

The Tiburon City Council last night agreed to pay $232,000 for 25 acres of open space — the first green land to be bought with money from its $1.25 million bond issue approved by voters last fall.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said the council unanimously voted to buy an area of Three Rolling Hills between Hacienda Drive and Tiburon Boulevard and directly north of the boulevard entrance to San Rafael Avenue.

An agreement was signed with Henry J. Eavey of San Francisco at last night's meeting in which the city promised to pay him $60,000 within five days from the opening of escrow today and the rest of the money on or before Nov. 12.

Balmer said that Eavey bought the land in 1959 and had originally planned to build a home on it. He said assessment rolls give land's market value as $150,000.

Sausalitan To Jail In Bribe Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Harris Wolfson, 26, Sausalito, today was sentenced to six months in prison and fined $1,500 for conspiracy to solicit a bribe from the president of an Oakland savings and loan company.

Wolfson's attorney, Harry Singer, moved to have the charge dismissed on the grounds that the jury last month acquitted co-defendant Jules Lindau, 35, of the same charge. U.S. District Judge Robert H. Schnacke, denied the motion.

Wolfson, a former analyst for the Federal Home Loan Bank, and Lindau, former attorney-examiner for the Federal Home Loan Bank board, were charged with soliciting a $200,000 bribe from Adolph C. Meyer Jr., president of Fidelity Savings and Loan Association last March.

The bribe was allegedly to influence Lindau in his report on Fidelity's financial interests.

An Auto Theft Count Dropped

An auto theft charge has been dismissed against a Red Bluff man, but a codefendant was bound over to Marin Superior Court to stand trial on the charge.

Judge Gary W. Thomas ordered Tommy Faye Lawver, 23, released on Tuesday after ruling there was insufficient evidence to link him to a sedan stolen from Empire Chevrolet in Novato.

But Thomas ruled enough evidence existed to try Kenneth Roy Phillips, 22, also of Red Bluff, on the felony theft count. Phillips is to appear Monday in the higher court.

The pair was arrested Aug. 30 in Red Bluff.

Hub Baseball Will Be 'Separate'

San Anselmo's Little League and Bobby Sox baseball programs will remain "separate, but equal," the town's parks and recreation commission decided last night.

On a 3-1-1 vote (commissioners Gerald DeVore, Frank Quinn, and Laura Cann in favor; Virginia Schweiger opposed; Thomas Peacock abstaining, and Lawrence Gapinski and Bruce Barbera absent) the commission recommended to the city council that the youth athletic programs remain segregated by sex.

After the 90-minute debate and vote, Lee Hunt of the National Organization of Women told recreation director Gary S. Howell that her group will take the matter to the city council for a higher decision.

Before an audience of about 30 persons, spokesmen for the Little League, Bobby Sox, and the women's group presented their views to commissioners.

According to Howell, both the boys and the girls baseball officials wanted to remain distinct, citing likely injury to girls as cause to retain the status quo.

Spokesmen for the women's group told commissioners that tax-supported faciliites could not legally be used for discriminatory programs, but City Atty. Hadden Roth replied that it was the option of the city to organize its programs in any way it chose.

Howell said that the majority believes that the town has a fine recreatin program now, and that making changes in it could only be for the worse.

In other matters, the commission seated new member Frank Quinn in place of Jay C. Stovall, and adjourned until Oct. 3.

Measure Easing Coastal Rules Goes To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Building permit rules along the California coast would be loosened under legislation sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure uses a section of the Coastline Initiative ballot proposition approved last November which allows the Legislature to clarify and modify the measure so long as the action conforms to the intent of the ballot measure.

The bill by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, makes these changes:

BCDC — Redefines the territory under jurisdiction of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission which is exempt from provisions of the coastal commission. The redefinition includes streams and channels which flow into DBCD territory as well as the bay area shoreline regions directly under BCDC control.

BOUNDARIES — Portions of large parcels which lie partially within the controlled coastal zone could be excluded from special zone permits so long as the major portions of the parcels are unrelated to the shoreline environment.

CONFLICTS — Strict conflict-of-interest restrictions on regional and statewide commissioners are redefined to bar voting on issues when a coastline commissioner has a substantial personal interest.

MAINTENANCE — Strict permit rules for routine repair and maintenance of ports, levees, piers and other shoreline developments are eased.

Arrest Made In Burglary

Ronnie Fayell Brandon, 27, of 7642 Bernice Street, Rohnert Park, was arrested yesterday by San Rafael police on suspicion of burglary of an apartment in San Rafael last December.

Officers arrested Brandon at the police station on suspicion of taking a set of encyclopedias, a movie camera, radio and dictionary from the apartment of Frank D. Du Charme, 35 Fairfax Street on Dec. 26.

Brandon was booked at Marin County jail and released on his own recognizance to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Democrats Seeking To Break Lock On State Welfare Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Democrats today hoped political pressure by California's aged, blind and disabled would prod Senate Republicans into releasing their grip on a $100 million-plus welfare bill opposed By Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"It's really getting to these guys—voting against the old people," said Senate Democratic Leader George Moscone of San Francisco, co-sponsor of the bill.

The fight over monthly welfare payments yesterday for 500,000 aged, blind and disabled Californians was one of the angriest of this or any recent legislative session. Unusual personal attacks and namecalling were commonplace.

It was the Legislature's last major unfinished business before scheduled adjournment of the 1973 session Friday night.

Welfare payments for the aged, blind and disabled now average $212. But unless the state acts, they will plummet to $130 when the federal government takes over administration of the program on Jan. 1.

The Democratic bill (AB18), by Assemblyman John L. Burton of San Francisco, would raise payments to $235 for the aged and disabled and $255 for the blind. It would cost anywhere from $107 million to $170 million annually, depending on whose figures are accurate.

Reagan wants to increase payments to $221 for 87 per cent of the recipients. The other 13 per cent now receive more than that, and their payments would not be changed. Future recipients, however would get just $221. The governor insisted he could do this without legislative authority, something Democrats questioned.

With only one vote to spare, the Assembly yesterday approved the Democratic bill after a bitter noon hour debate. The vote was 55-19, with seven Republicans siding with 48 Democrats.

The bill had been rejected Tuesday by the Senate on a 22-18 vote, five short of passage. But Moscone was granted permission to have the measure reconsidered. The senator planned to wait, he said, until enough favorable votes were assured.

The strategy of Moscone and Burton, two of the Legislature's most outpoken liberals, was to drum up senior citizen political heat on Republican senators.

Moscone said he hoped Republicans would "abandon Reagan and his madness of gambling with the fate of our aged, blind and disabled. It's very clear that Reagan seeks to continue his callous disregard for people in pursuit of conservative Republican support for president."

Moscone, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Reagan was pushing California toward "the worst crisis this state has known" and the "blind, old people and severely crippled" faced being "thrown into the streets begging."

The senator also charged that Health and Welfare Secretary Earl Brian, who is trying to run for the U.S. Senate, had "blatantly lied" about the bill.

During floor debate, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, told Burton he had worked himself into such "a little emotional whirlwind" he was pushing legislation which didn't stand a chance of being signed by Reagan even if it did pass.

Freshman Assemblyman Lawrence Kapaloff, D-San Diego, told the veteran Bagley he was "selling his soul" to Reagan to win the governor's support in a race for controller.

LATE PAYMENTS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate last night passed a bill setting a ceiling on the size of late payment penalties which can be imposed on mortgaged homeowners.

The measure (AB105) by Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh, D-Chula Vista, was returned to the Assembly for concurrence in Senate amendments on a 24-15 vote.

The ceiling on the penalties for being late with a mortgage payment would be 10 per cent under the bill.

Opponents argued the bill was "anticonsumer" and that the ceiling should be lower. But their three attempts to amend the bill were defeated.

BARGAINING

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation giving teachers and higher education faculty members collective bargaining rights except the right to strike has been sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The Senate last night gave final legislative approval to the bill by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, when it voted 21-17, the bare minimum required, to accept Assembly amendments to it. The Reagan administration opposes the legislation (SB400).

The proposal would grant to all public school teachers, community college instructors and faculty members of the University of California and state colleges collective bargaining rights similar to those of labor union members in industry.

"This is a bill that makes it unnecessary for reasonable people to go on strike," Moscone said.

But Sen. Clark Bradley, R-San Jose, warned it would lead to strikes and asserted, "The unions ought to be satisfied with what they've got without getting something like this."

"Sen. Bradley has been making speeches against public employe strikes as long as I've been in the Senate and probably longer," Moscone replied, "and he hasn't stopped strikes so far."

The bill would repeal existing laws covering teacher bargaining with school boards and establish new procedures, including a provision allowing teachers to vote by secret ballot in elections to determine which union they wanted to join.

SHOE SKINS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill permitting the limited sale of kangaroo skin athletic shoes in California has died in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

The measure (AB2569) by Assemblyman W. Don MacGillivray, R-Santa Barbara, was killed Wednesday on a 2-8 vote.

The sale of any kind of kangaroo product was outlawed in California last year to prevent mass slaughter of Australia's high-jumping marsupials.

MacGillivray said his bill was needed to permit retailers to sell kangaroo skin athletic shoes which were ordered before the ban was imposed.

TREE PLEA

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An Oakland lawmaker has urged Gov. Ronald Reagan to use state budget surplus funds to finance removal of dead eucalyptus trees which pose a fire hazard in the San Francisco East Bay area.

State Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, a Democrat, made the request Wednesday a day after the House of Representatives refused to consider an $11 million bill to remove the two million trees killed by frost in the Oakland-Berkeley Hills in Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Recall Film Schedule Is Announced

After failing in attempts to present a show about the Corte Madera recall election on cable television, the Marin Community Video Association today announced plans to show the film in three locations in Corte Madera.

The association has prepared a half-hour tape including man-on-the-street interviews about the recall, scenes from Corte Madera including the site of the proposed regional shopping center which is a major factor in the recall and readings of recall charges and responses.

Tele-Vue Systems, the cable company serving Corte Madera, last week refused to air the tape and the three Corte Madera councilmen facing recall refused to appear in the show.

Gerald Pearlman, a spokesman for the video association, said his group still wants to present the tape to Corte Madera residents so that they can view both sides of the issue.

He said the tape would be shown in continuous showings from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the meeting room of the Cooperative Shopping Center, 71 Tamal Vista Boulevard; 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the cooperative center, and 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 2 to 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Corte Madera Library, 707 Meadowsweet Drive.

Bank Introduces Metric System

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Crocker Bank today introduced the metric system to motorists.

Crocker Bank painted its signboards on the Skyway to give the kilometer distances from here to Berkeley, Stockton, Daly City, Los Gatos, Salinas and London.

Bank officials said the metric system would be common in the United States within the next decade.

"Inches and ounces will be shed in favor of meters, grams and liters," they said.

One mile equals 1.60934 kilometers, and the Crocker's signboards point out that the distance from here to Salinas is 164 kilometers.

Russian River Pipeline Needs Said 20 Million Gallons Daily

The pipeline for the proposed Russian River water supply project must be large enough to carry up to 20 million gallons of water a day into the Marin Municipal Water District, Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger told the district board yesterday.

Were it possible for the pipeline system to operate at full capacity all 365 days a year, this would mean it could provide 22,000 acre-feet of water each year, 8,600 acre-feet more than the limit set by the board on the amount it will contract for.

But Seeger emphasized it would be phsycially impossible to take the maximum amount into the district system, J. Deitrich Stroeh, manager of engineering, reported today. "We couldn't use that much water because we would have no place to put it," he said Seeger said. To take in that amount, the district would have to expand its existing pipelines, reservoirs, storage tanks and treatment facilities, the general manager said.

Seeger's statement came in response to a person in the audience who feared the supply project could be used to bring in enough water for wholesale development in the county. The district will present a bond issue to finance one stage of the four-stage project, to district voters in November. Funds for another stage, the North Marin Intertie, were approved by voters in 1970.

Seeger attempted to quiet the fears of those who mistrust the pipe's large capacity, Stroeh reported. Seeger reiterated that the district board has promised to contract for only the 13,400 acre-feet a year needed to meet the limited growth proposed in the Marin Countywide General Plan.

The large size of the pipeline is an engineering decision, Stroeh said. he 33-inch-diameter pipe has been designed to bring in up to 20 million gallons daily because at certain times of the year that amount will be needed.

For example, the district initially will only be able to take water during the cooler months, Sept. 1 to May 1. Without the large pipe it would be impossible to bring in 13,400 acre-feet in only eight months, Stroeh said.

Even after the system is completed and hooked into the Russian River there will be times when the district will draw that much daily in the summer to meet peak demands.

Stroeh also said the district will not be capable of taking in more than 13,400 acre-feet during 12 months because of the limitations within its own system.

The water board set a number of special meetings on the project and agreed to hold its next regular meeting at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 24. Other sessions planned are: Review of the environment impact report for the Russian River supply project, 7:30 p.m. Sept. 27; review of a report on the economic impact of continuing the district moratorium on new connections if the bond issue fails, 7:30 p.m. Oct. 3; public hearing on supply project environmental impact report, 7:30 p.m. Oct. 17; public hearing on the economic report, 7:30 p.m. Oct. 24.

Camp Fire Training Sessions Scheduled

The program of Camp Fire Girls has been revised nationally, and a series of training sessions for the three Marin districts of Camp Fire will be held in the county next week.

Trainers will be Val Dorset, District I, Margaret Heare, District II, and Harriett Weaver, District III. The program will affect the 160 group leaders, who will introduce the program to Marin's 1,300 girls in the Camp Fire program.

As Camp Fire director of program development Gwen Harper of New York explained, Camp Fire could have simply updated the program as in previous years. Instead, it decided to build program materials for adults of the future to help the youngsters become responsible, competent and fulfilled adults.

The program, devised with the help of educators, leaders, psychologists and Camp Fire members, focuses on planning, decision-making, autonomy, awareness of self and others and development of a positive self-image. The idea is to give the girls the tools to fashion the results by using their own sense of direction, said the director.

IN A UPI interview, the director explained the changes:

"Activities are designed to encourage choice and discourage prescriptiveness," she said. "Emphasis is on helping youngsters learn attitudes and skills that will help them when they are adults."

The program is future-oriented. It aims to equip girls for survival in a future that holds many unknowns.

"WE ASKED ourselves," Ms. Harper said, "what will the world be like in 20 to 30 years? What capacities will adults need to function in 1993?

"We answered those questions with the help of educators, psychologists and Camp Fire leaders."

They came to the conclusion that if a girl aimed for a future as a mother or a carpenter, she should develop ingenuity, creativity, resourcefulness, initiative, perseverance, strength, bravery, adventurousness, constructive use of power, self confidence and assertiveness.

The new program hopes to discourage passivity, docility and dependence — qualities considered admirable in women long ago.

THE PROGRAM, told in a new set of handbooks, still is concerned about building character and good health. But emphasis has changed. This is illustrated in the edict in the first handbook about personal cleanliness: "Bathe Regularly."

In the new guide for older girls questions include: "What kind of soaps do you use? Do these soaps pollute water?"

The program focuses on sex stereotyping also. In the booklets for the Adventure Program, fourth to sixth grade, activities aim at helping young people raise questions about society. Some excerpts:

—Find out what the phrase "discrimination based on sex" means. Dramatize an incident in which discrimination by sex occurs. Or, prepare a questionnaire on this subject and survey men and women living in your area.

—READ A DAILY paper, noting the headlines and stories on the front page. Find one important political issue you are particularly interested in. Then try to find articles in magazines, books, speeches on television and so on which concern this subject area. Decide which view makes sense to you. Then give a speech and explain why you feel as you do.

—The American poet, Carl Sandburg, raised the question, "Suppose they gave a war and nobody came?" Discuss this question with the group. Does it suggest other questions? With your group write a story about or make a model of a society that had never known war.

GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Do Dates For Pay Make Her Younger Brother A Gigolo?

RAP:

I just found out how my brother earned extra money from his boss this summer. He took out the boss's daughter!

I kept wondering why my very popular kid brother would date Mary (I'll call her) who was very shy, kind of fat, and generally ignored. All he would say is, "She's a good kid." (It was by accident I learned the truth.)

Mary has now gone away to college. By the end of summer she'd slimmed down and looked and acted about 100 per cent better. I'm pretty sure it was because she got self-confidence.

My brother shouldn't have taken money — that makes him a gigolo, doesn't it? But he points out he was actually being paid to show her she was worth something, and he made sure she didn't fall in love with him. He says she knew there was some kind of arrangement with her dad, but that also they did like each other as friends — and besides most of the money he "earned" was spent on Mary, and their dates together. They went to some fancy places. He says, "This won't become a habit — don't worry, Sis."

Should I believe the good part and say nothing about this to our parents? I'm six years older and feel responsible. — SISTER OF A 17-YEAR-OLD GIGOLO

DEAR SISTER:

I'd say — call your brother's extra summer job "therapy," and forget you ever heard the truth about it! — HELEN

SISTER:

Your brother helped a girl come out of her shell. No one's hurt, and several people are helped (Mary, her father, and Bub, who had a pretty good summer with a friend.) Believe him when he says he won't make a habit of "gigoloing" and stay mum. If you tell your parents, the word might spread around and hurt Mary. — SUE

RAP:

If a girl earns more money than a guy, and he has a lot of bills but she hasn't, should she pay for most of their dates, provide the car (which is better than his), and give him gifts she can afford, though his gifts to her aren't as expensive?

Since he's always broke and she makes twice as much, isn't this only fair? — BILLY

BILLY:

Are you Billy-boy, or Billy-girl?

If you're male, my answer is: Dutch treat, fine, but don't live off your girlfriend. She'd resent sponging, even in a female friend.

Look for a better job! — SUE

DEAR BILLY:

And if you're female — well, it's your decision, but wouldn't you lose respect for a fellow who almost always lets you pick up the tab? How could you help but feel "used"?

Stay with Dutch treat unless you're feminist enough to believe you aren't "buying" a guy you pay for. — HELEN

Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel — or both, in care of the Independent-Journal, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.

MODERN MANNEQUINS

Realism In Store Windows

By PHYLLIS FELDKAMP
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

NEW YORK — So far, Ella is the only department store mannequin on record to have come to life, and she is pure fantasy. A fictional heroine, Ella is the beautiful dummy in "Evening Primrose," John Collier's haunting 1940s short story about what went on nights inside Bracy's Grand Emporium when a customer, yearning for Ella, managed to get himself locked in the store after hours.

Still it would not be surprising if something of this sort were actually to occur today. Display mannequins grow ever more like real people. The latest models from Europe, manufactured by Hindsgaul, a Danish firm, are images of swinging contemporaries, worlds away from the rigid, haughty dummies of yesterday.

As pictured in the Hindsgaul catalogs, girl mannequins invade the captain's quarters on a cruise ship, and in action poses they live it up in the company of sideburned, mustachioed men mannequins in murky nightspots.

REPORTEDLY SELLING at a fast clip in Europe, the Hindsgaul type is considered a bit "far out" for American luxury stores. Henry Callahan, Saks Fifth Avenue's vice president in charge of decoration, prefers a ladylike brand of realism created by Mary Brosnan, the queen bee of U.S. mannequin-makers. Callahan considers her work better suited to his customers.

"I also use California's Wolf and Vine and Greneker. Their mannequins are Halston types — alluring but in good taste," he says. Europe is doing a thing for street people. We have a different message to put across."

Other display directors say the action-postured mannequins are hard to dress, particularly in pants, although they find such ultra-realistic dummies as those by London's Adel Rootstein appropriate for sportswear.

Mrs. Rootstein made news in the 1960s with casually stanced look alikes of such fashion figures as Twiggy, the Vicomtesse de Ribes, and a lady of uncertain age modeled after Laurie Newton Sharp, a Harrods' executive. Since then, she has done Lord Patrick Lichfield, the trendy British photographer, and lines called New Men, Aristocrat, Superstar, and most recently, Plump and Pretty.

The current furor over the new realism does not strike Mary Brosnan as innovative. She says realism began in 1941, which coincidentally happens to be the year she started in business by doing a dummy in the image of a girl in the fashion office of Bonwit Teller. Shortly thereafter she made figures of Mrs. William S. (Babe) Paley and Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper for Lord and Taylor.

NOR ARE action poses anything new to her. "We've done mannequins standing on their heads and suspended as if flying through the air," she says. "We are influenced by what the fashion photographers do. Action started with Richard Avedon's fashion pictures 30 years ago.

Miss Brosnan's upper-register figures, produced in her Long Island studio, begin at $275 but cost more if given a portrait finish, glass eyes, or other extra touches. A mannequin will only last five years (scrubbing with cleanser after each use tends to wear down the paint) so display departments are constantly renewing stocks. Changes in fashion also outmode mannequins. Right now stores are having a problem due to the new higher heels that pitch bodies forward, so that figures will in the future have to be redesigned.

The mannequin's raison d'etre, says Miss Brosnan, is "to sell the clothes, not to entertain. Too wildlooking a pose and hairdo will sell the mannequin, not the fashions."

THE NEW look in store mannequins is illustrated in this model designed by Londoner Adel Rootstein, whose mannequins are especially used for sportswear. The designer began doing look-alikes in models such as Twiggy and photographer Lord Patrick Lichfield. The infiuence is being reflected now in America.

Women Stirring Things Up For A Place In Business

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The business world still is largely a masculine world although women make up 40 per cent of the U.S. labor force.

But there is action stirring, particularly as it affects one group of women—those in or planning to go into business for themselves.

Involved are such groups as the National Organization for Women (NOW) and individuals like Jeanne Wertz, a businesswoman who's done a study on the matter for the Small Business Administration.

It is Wertz' study, "The SBA and Women", presented to the federal agency in March of this year, that has NOW in the act.

NOW's president, Wilma Scott Heide, commended the agency for the initiative in providing the study. But she wants to know what SBA plans to do about it.

NOW has made public a letter sent to SBA. In it, she said that in the period July 1, 1972 to June 20, 1973, less than one one-hundredth of one per cent of all SBA loans went to women and "these were in generally smaller amounts than (those for) men though women make up 40 per cent of the U.S. labor force."

Mrs. Heide also asked that sexist literature and films distributed by SBA be withdrawn. One example of SBA literature reads, "Mr. Small Businessman, I want you to grow and prosper" and has the drawing of Uncle Sam pointing from the cover.

ALMOST NO SBA contracts are awarded to women, Mrs. Heide wrote, "...in spite of 90 per cent of all telephone inquiries to SBA being from women, women's attendance figures at workshops and counselling sessions, and the fact that most of the adult poor in this country are women of all races."

NOW recommended a four-point plan for immediate action by SBA—commit itself to women as special clients, allocate a minimum of $320 million (40 per cent of the agency's budget) for women entrepreneurs to reflect the 40 per cent of the labor force who are women, initiate a yearly census computer study for data about enterprises owned by women, and meet with feminists who can advise the agency how to fulfill its "legal and moral obligations to the other half of the population — women."

REACHED BY telephone at her home in Connecticut, Mrs. Heide said she hadn't heard from the agency "but I'm not holding my breath."

Miss Wertz said she sent fact sheets on her study to all 16 congresswomen, to presidents of women's business, professional educational and feminist organizations. She urged that they write SBA's administrator Thomas S. Kleppe.

And she urges that women as individuals write SBA.

Miss Wertz said little is known about today's female entrepreneurs except "that their numbers are growing. It has a lot to do with new options, not necessarily an outgrowth of the liberation movement."

"The problem is capital, often very difficult for a woman to get," said Miss Wertz in an interview. "But it's SBA's job to help small business."

"I'm afraid," she said, "that the business world still is largely a man's world."

Prejudices operate against women, she said, "such as those held by predominantly male groups of bankers, landlords, utilities, insurance agencies, lawyers, accountants, suppliers, community business organizations. The prejudices can even affect the woman's customers and employes."

But the women are moving anyway.

Americans In Paris Find Food Really High

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI) — The outcry in the United States about high food prices brought yawns and sad smiles from two American housewives who have recently arrived to live in Paris.

Mrs. Edward Casazza, fresh from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., was shocked on her first visit to the food shops near the apartment she and her husband took in a prosperous section near the Eiffel Tower.

"I am overwhelmed to see the prices here," said Mrs. Casazza, wife of an executive at International Business Machines. "How do French people with large families manage ?"

Another new arrival, Mrs. William Stieff, wife of an American journalist, felt the same way about prices in stores in her middle-class neighborhood.

"AMERICAN WOMEN think their supermarket prices are high," she said. "Would they get a shock if they could see the prices in Paris."

Mrs. Casazza and Mrs. Stieff are among thousands of Americans living in Paris who pay prices for most food and household items that are as high or higher than prices for similar goods in the United States. There are some exceptions, but not many.

"Fruits and vegetables appear to me about the same, or even cheaper in Paris," said Mrs. Casazza. She said lettuce selling here for the equivalent of 32 cents a head sold for 69 cents in Poughkeepsie.

"But meat, butter, eggs, canned and frozen foods, maintenance items such as soap powder, paper towels — they're higher."

SHE POINTED to a cheese and butter shop and said, "The medium grade butter in this shop is the equivalent of 92 cents a half pound. The last time I shopped in the States, butter was 89 cents to a dollar for an entire pound."

Foreigners living in Paris, however, agree that the food is better in France than in the United States, particularly fruits and vegetables. Butter in France is one of the world's delicacies.

Mrs. Casazza bough top quality roast beef for the equivalent of $3.29 a pound and sighed, "Three weeks ago in Poughkeepsie I paid for top beef $2 to $2.25 a pound. And Porterhouse steaks on sale were less than $2 a pound."

She said she found little cans of tomato paste for the equivalent of 67 cents in Paris, but back home she paid 10 to 12 cents a can.

MRS. STIEFF, touring her open air market near the Place de La Bastille in east Paris, gasped at the price of fish, including sole selling at the equivalent of $3.63 a pound.

"Back in our Washington suburb of Chevy Chase I never paid more than $2 a pound for any fish except lobster," she said.

"Flowers are much cheaper here. But bacon here costs about $3.41 a pound, four to five times what I paid at the Grand Union supermarket back home.

"Round steak is about $2.50 a pound here compared to $1.39 in Washington. Beef is not as good here either, but it's trimmed of fat so there's less waste."

Chicken is around twice the price in Paris as in the United States. Mrs. Stieff bought six eggs for 62 cents, compared to 75 cents a dozen when she left Washington.

A 49-OUNCE package of laundry soap sells for 85 cents back home but is the quivalent of $3.70 in Paris, the women noted.

Many prices are higher for Americans because of dollar devaluations, but even not counting the devaluations most items would cost more in Paris than in the United States.

The lower price for devaluated American imports does not appear to have been passed on to the Paris consumer. Expatriate peanut butter fanciers still pay the equivalent of $1.10 for a small jar and a quart of that Florida orange juice still is 87 cents in Paris.

"And who can drive to the supermarket when gasoline costs $1.25 a gallon in Paris?" asked Mrs. Stieff.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Famous Physician — Dr. Karl Menninger said it was just another day when his 80th turned up this summer (July 22). Still running the world-famous Menninger Clinic in the Midwest, he remarked at a party given by friends, "I feel just as good as I did 20 or 30 years ago. I just expect to go on working all my life." He started the clinic with his father in 1920. Twenty years later he and his brother established a foundation to establish other clinics to relate knowledge about psychiatry to law, industry, religion and education.

WINS IN DUMMY

West opened the queen of diamonds and dummy's ace won. South yielded to the tempting trump finesse, but this lost to West's queen.

This gave West the chance to lead another diamond, forcing South to use up one of his precious trumps.

South next proceeded to lead out trumps, but this used up the rest of his trumps, West was sure to gain the lead with the ace of clubs to take the rest of the diamonds.

Down two.

CAN'T FINESSE

Declarer cannot afford to try the trump finesse. After winning the first trick with the ace of diamonds, he takes the ace and king of trumps. The next step is to lead a club to dummy's ten. Clubs are continued until West takes the ace.

CAN AFFORD RUFF

West can lead another diamond to make South waste a trump, but South can still afford this. He has two trumps left — as many as West.

South cannot afford to lead another trump. He must lead out his clubs, making West ruff. That will leave West with one trump to South's two trumps. South thus stays in control of the hand.

West wins two trumps and the ace of clubs, but these three tricks are not enough to defeat the contract.

Swimming Pool Goal: $20,000

A $20,000 goal to build a swimming pool was set last night as the Cotati Parks and Recreation Commission set the first fund raising events.

Commission chairman Lee Gray said the pool itself was estimated to cost $15,000 with another $5,000 required for fencing and concrete work. If enough funds are received, the pool will be built in the Holiday Park section of Cotati.

Mrs. Gray said an auction and barbecue was set for Oct. 28 at 11 a.m. A location has not yet been set. Other fund raising plans include a spook house for children and a dance for adults during the Halloween season.

San Rafael New Schools Aide Hired

The San Rafael Board of Education has named a Riverside County school administrator as director of administrative services, a post Donald E. Leisey held before being appointed superintendent last June.

Paul Robinson, business manager of the Hemet School District, Riverside County, will receive $24,842 annually in his new San Rafael schools post, Leisey said yesterday.

The 45-year-old Robinson has been business manager of the Hemet School District for the past nine years.

Robinson has also worked as a traveling accountant for General Motors, and as controller of a construction firm, Leisey said.

In other business Tuesday, the board awarded a $6,948 contract to Empire Tractor Co., low bidder, for a tractor; agreed to study a proposal by local Girl Scouts for painting murals on local school walls, and learned that enrollment in the elementory district on opening day of school was 4,110 pupils, down from 4,320 last year, and 4,128 in the high school district, down from 4,300 last year.

The board next meets at 7:45 p.m. Sept. 25.

Crusade Pledges Total $190,500

Marin County will contribute more than $190,500 to the 1973 United Bay Area Crusade campaign, local chairman J. Galen Foster of San Rafael has announced.

Foster pledged Marin to that goal Monday at a kick-off breakfast at the Marin Country Club of Novato. The goal for the entire Bay Area is $17.5 million, crusade officials said.

Professional (Dr. W. James Dawson), $23,500; Advance gifts (Jordan B. Dell'Era), $30,500; Local government (Ray Foreaker), $14,000; Education (Virgil S. Hollis), $19,500; Business (John Engelman), $23,000; Residential (Mrs. John J. Roth Jr.), $41,000; Commerce and industry (Jack E. Eddy), $39,000.

Misdemeanor Charge Filed

Only a misdemeanor charge of forging a prescription was filed yesterday against David George Peterson, 26, of Woodacre.

Peterson originally was arrested on suspicion of a felony count of the same violation after he telephoned a San Rafael pharmacy Friday and ordered a prescription pain-killer by posing as a doctor.

Book Tells HowToKnit Raglans

"Raglans Unlimited" is a book of concise and simple knitting directions for all basic raglan sweaters: Pullovers and Cardigans, with a choice of Round, Turtle or V neck: even a choice of long or short sleeves in the lighter weights of yarn. As a matter of fact, you can make 416 different sweaters from this book without repeating!

This book gives all patterns worked from the neck down — the very popular method of knitting raglans which has heretofore been so hard to find in a range of sizes and for different weights of yarn. As most knitters know, or will be delighted to discover, this method of knitting a sweater gives a finished garment that requires an absolute minimum of finishing or putting together and eliminates entirely the necessity of "setting in" sleeves — a task which so many knitters find objectionable.

Instructions are given for all sizes ranging from 2 through 52. There are very few knitting instruction books available with these larger sizes for any style or type of sweater, much less raglans.

Also: the instructions are given for four different weights of yarn: fine weight fingering yarn, medium weight sport yarn; heavy weight knitting worsted and also for the bulky weight.

Directions are written so that a complete sweater can be made without turning a page, with none of the usual tracking down of bits and pieces of information from page to page, to be put together like a jigsaw puzzle. This should appeal to the most experienced knitter, as it certainly will to the novice — and all degrees of skill in between.

"Raglans Unlimited" is not available in stores and can be purchased only through the mail by sending $2.00 (postpaid) to Knit /N Notion, Dept. B100, 503 Hood Blvd. Fairless Hills, Pa. 19030.

Report On Fairfax General Plan Due

The Fairfax Planning Commission will consider the report by the Citizens Committee for Review of the Fairfax General Plan when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The 57-page document makes myriad proposals, ranging from reviving the controversial connector road linking White's Hill to Lucas Valley, converting the Fairfax Parkade into a midtown park, and placing an annual lid on residential development.

Town merchants have been critical of portions of the report, saying the citizen's committee did not consider the needs of the business community.

The Fairfax town administration has also criticized the report, saying town staff was not consulted. Police Chief Charles A. Grasso told businessmen several weeks ago that he greeted with "sheer terror" a proposal by the committee for "alternate one-way routing" of Center Boulevard during peak commute hours.

The meeting will mark the first public airing of the document.

Tour Firm Sues Las Vegas Hotel

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — An eastern travel company filed a $500,000 suit against the Tropicana Hotel and Country Club yesterday.

Travel Pack Tours of New Jersey charged its reputation was harmed when the Las Vegas "strip" resort cancelled bookings made for October, for the remainder of this year and next year.

The tour wholesaler operates primarily in Pennsylvania and the northeastern United States.

PILLOW CURTAIN — Some 224 tiny, stuffed, pillow-shaped "toys" hang in 14 strands in artist Gwen Stone's sculptural combine, "Pillow Curtain", created from a variety of materials, colors, and textures, and strung on nylon cord attached to a wooden bar. This and other works by this artist, including paintings, sculpture, and drawings are included in her current exhibit in San Marco Gallery on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

ART REVIEW

'Toys' Are Theme For Gwen Stone

By ADA GARFINKEL

Artist Gwen Stone's newest work in her exhibit now at Dominican College's San Marco Gallery offers several hitherto unexplored areas for this versatile and prolific artist.

It is quite evident that the past two years since her last exhibit have been creatively productive. They have also been joyously experienced, and this Miss Stone wants to share with her viewers.

"I want to make people laugh . . . the idea of silly little shapes edging and pushing their way into crevices and hidden places . . . this is my idea of 'toys and playthings' for adults as well as children!" according to Miss Stone.

Strong, abstract forms and sturdy colors have always characterized Miss Stone's work. Her book-linen collages were monumental in scale and concept.

More recently she has been working in acrylic paints in developing her "Toy" series. However, while the theme develops fluidly, the colors /ochre, gray, red, green, burgundy — lend a sobering note.

Once again, it is cloth that puts it all together for Miss Stone! This time it is a profusion of Persian, Chinese, and Egyptian prints, and plaids, stripes, dots and circles — or solid pastel or brilliant colors, which she stuffs and shapes into miniscule pillow-like toys.

The individual little forms are embellished with yarn, thread strands, beads, or tiny dabs of ceramic dots. If there is a tiny bird, butterfly, cat, or flower in the design of the cloth, Miss Stone gives them eyes, whiskers or flowing tendrils. Then she gives them a home in her sculptural combines.

In "Pillow Curtain," for example, 14 strands of 16 assorted shapes and colors are suspended from a wooden bar, somewhat like an old-fashioned bead curtain. The strands move lightly at the slightest touch, their tiny ceramic tassels resounding lightly as they glance off each other.

A companion tray houses "Carol's Garden," but the players are new! The white "ground" is separated by narrow red and blue lines into four wavy rows. Five-inch ceramic discs — white with bands of bright color glazes — are pierced and filled with white-painted sprigs of seed pods. Serveral glazed, toadstool-like ceramic mounds stabilize the fairyland scenario.

"Meditation Blocks" — a 17-piece domino-like game of wooden blocks is not only for touching, but for playing. Fitting into a small red-lined tray, the playing side of each block is marked in white on black, black on red, and red on ochre. The reverse sides simulate standard playing-card designs.

Continuing the "Toy" theme, she introduces variations in color and format. A circular format, conical mounds, repeats of shapes — at times with a slight shift of placement — and several drawings with a very closely-knit linear structure which flows and wavers, forming shallow crater shapes which add energetic tactility to a simple basic form.

This exhibit will continue through Oct. 12 and may be seen daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Nashville, Tenn., is known as the "Athens of the South" because of its 13 co-educational colleges and universities and full-size replica of the Parthenon.

Jury Being Selected For Obscenity Trial

Jury selection was to begin today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on obscenity charges against Petaluma theater owner Alan W. Finley.

Finley is charged with three counts of exhibiting obscene materials for showing the X-rated films "Deep Throat" and "Behind the Green Door" at the State Theater.

Although "Deep Throat" has been playing for nearly nine months, it is still doing a brisk business. Weekend showings draw long lines of customers from all parts of the Bay Area.

A recent supreme court ruling that local standards must be applied in obscenity cases will play a large role in the trial that is expected to last three weeks. The movie has been declared obscene in New York and other places.

Jurors, to be selected on a countywide basis, will be faced with the responsibility of declaring whether the films are obscene by local standards.

Finley is represented by Berkeley attorney Arthur Wells Jr., who is expected to argue that halting the films would be unconstitutional because of guarantees of free speech and due process of law.

Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Michael Mullins is expected to argue that California law has already determined what types of sexual activities can be considered obscene.

Tregaskis Died Of Heart Attack

HONOLULU (UPI) — The death of author Richard Tregaskis has been listed officially as caused by a heart attack.

Tregaskis, 56, was found dead in waters off Ala Moana Park here Aug. 15. The results of an autopsy were released yesterday which confirmed the cause of death.

He was best known for his World War II book, "Guadacanal Diary."

Dog Shows Scheduled In Marin

Two days of championship competition dog shows will attract about 3,000 dogs to Marin County this weekend.

Eleven dog clubs devoted to single breeds will hold their annual specialty shows on Saturday. The Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club will stage its annual all-breed dog show and obedience competition on Sunday, at the fairgrounds at the Marin County Civic Center.

The Golden Gate Dachshund Club will hold its specialty show beginning at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the Sportsmen's Lodge in Novato. At the civic center Saturday will be the national specialty competitions of the Bedlington Terrier Club of America, Gordon Setter Club of America and Whippet Club of America, plus regional shows for English spring spaniels, boxers, airedale terriers, fox terriers, Kerry blue terriers, miniature schnauzers, and poodles. The Poodle Club of Central California show will be the only one Saturday featuring both conformation and obedience competition.

The Sir Francis Drake show, from 8:30 a.m. to about 5 p.m. Sunday, will have judging in 18 rings on the fairgrounds and in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building.

Activated charcoal, highly purified and treated to increase its absorptive properties, is increasingly used as a filter to remove pollutants in everything from municipal water supplies to breweries.

Research Center Reptiles Stolen

Police disclosed yesterday that $1,440 worth of snakes have been stolen from the Institute for Herpetological Research during the past three months.

Dr. Richard Ross said the reptiles could not have eaten each other and could not have escaped from their cages.

Sexual Attitudes Are Said Easing

NEW YORK (UPI) — A survey of U.S. attitudes toward sex, commissioned by the Playboy Foundation as an updated version of the Kinsey study, concludes the country is in the midst of a sexual liberation movement in which premarital sex has gained acceptablity.

The survey, published in the October issue of Playboy Magazine, said that premarital sex has become both acceptable and widespread, with the change most noteworthy in women, and that extramarital sex for women was on the rise.

The survey was conducted by The Research Guild, Inc., a private research organization.

"Americans are more tolerant of the sexual ideas and acts of other persons than formerly and far, far freer to envision various previously forbidden acts as possible for themselves," the survey said.

It indicated that although sexual attitudes of Americans had gone through radical changes since the Kinsey study 25 years ago, the changes have not destroyed "institutions necessary to the stability of society itself."

In his sexual behavior study a generation ago, Dr. Alfred Kinsey reported that one third of single women in his study had intercourse by the age of 25. The Playboy survey found that about 75 per cent of the single women admitted premarital relations before 25, and said they were doing it more frequently.

The survey included interviews with 2,026 persons over 17 —982 men and 1,044 women—living in both cities and suburbs. Seventy one per cent of those surveyed were married, 25 per cent single and 4 per cent divorced.

In other findings, 32 per cent of the married men under 25 surveyed said they had engaged in extramaritial relations, only a slight increase over the Kinsey figures. However, 24 four per cent of wives under 25 admitted extramarital affairs, a jump of about 15 per cent since Kinsey's study.

The survey also showed fewer young men have relations with prostitutes. In Kinsey's sample nearly a third of the single men between 16 and 20 resorted to prostitutes. The Playboy survey show only 3 per cent of single men 18 to 24 years old resorted to prostitutes in the past year.

In addition, the statement "sex is one of the most beautiful parts of life" won a yes vote from 90 per cent or more of the men and women in every age group."

Aspin Questions Defense Figures

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., has demanded that Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger tell exactly how many servicemen are performing civilian jobs for other government agencies.

Aspin said yesterday the number is twice as high as what defense officials have told the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Heart Of A Murder Victim Transplanted

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The heart of a crime victim whose bullet-punctured brain showed no signs of life was removed yesterday, flown across San Francisco Bay and successfully transplanted into a 52-year-old man.

The heart had been kept beating for two days by a machine and "cerebral death" had been diagnosed before the victim's wife and mother consented to the removal by Dr. Norman Shumway.

Doctors said it was the first reported case of a murder victim's heart being removed for transplanting.

Shumway, the transplant pioneer, flew the heart from Highland Hospital in Oakland by helicopter to Stanford Medical Center and performed an immediate four-hour operation.

The murder victim, Samuel Moore, 29, had been found in a pool of blood Monday, a bullet in his brain, in the home of an acquaintance, who was arrested.

Alameda County authorities hesitated in their decision to allow the operation on grounds it could cause legal confusion in a future trial.

But early yesterday a neurologist and a neurosurgeon made a final series tests on Moore's brain and diagnosed "cerebral death."

Deputy Coroner Roland Prahl said, "As long as Dr. Shumway has a patient ready to receive the heart of this man, we'll make an exception."

The recipient of the heart, a victim of heart disease, was reported in satisfactory condition after receiving Moore's heart.

Bolinas Mesa Resort Plan Meets Staunch Opposition

By PAUL LIBERATORE

A San Rafael developer's proposal to build a 200-unit condominium resort on the Bolinas Mesa last night became the target of bitter local opposition from residents who claim the development would violate proposed growth limits and ruin the village character of the community.

Appearing before the Bolinas Community Public Utility District board to discuss the proposal, developer Anton G. Holter told a standing-room-only crowd of about 100 that the resort would fill a need in West Marin for overnight facilities for visitors to the Point Reyes National Seashore.

"The lodge-resort concept is a viable alternative as long as the land is held in private ownership," Holter said.

But Rex Rathbun, cochairman of the Bolinas Planning Group, said that under proposed zoning for the mesa, 80 of the 210 acres owned by Holter's firm, Mesa Ranch Ltd., would be limited to one unit for every five acres and the remaining 130 acres would be restricted to one unit for every 60 acres.

Rathbun said proposed zoning, which also would require a 100-foot setback along the coastline and an environmental impact report for projects on slopes over 25 per cent, will be presented to the county planning commission for adoption in October.

Although discussion centered around a development of 200 condominium units, which would be available for rental to transients at certain times of the year, Holter refused to commit himself to that figure or any other, maintaining that plans are still in the conceptual stage and subject to change.

"It could be anywhere between two and 900 units," he said.

(Under current zoning, 900 units is the maximum that could be built on the property.)

The resort plan is one of seven possibilities suggested in a feasibility study for development of the 210-acre ocean front parcel west of Mesa Road and north of Poplar Avenue. Other choices range from a straight subdivision for single-family homes to resort lodges of various sizes which would include a swimming pool, amphitheater and tennis courts.

A straw vote of the audience, composed mostly of young, hip residents, revealed overwhelming opposition to any substantial development on the mesa and support for a Bolinas Planning Group recommendation that growth be limited to 1 per cent per year, or about seven new houses.

"If the community wants land for open space," Holter reacted, "I think the people have the responsibility to purchase it."

Utility district director Paul Kayfetz countered that the property was purchased by Holter in December 1971, after a newly-elected district board slapped a moratorium on water connections and made it quite clear there would be tight restrictions on development.

"The developer should not now be in the position to say, 'I am going to put up so many units and if you don't want the land developed, then you must buy it at my inflated prices,' " Kayfetz said.

Attending the meeting was County Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini, who said he is reconsidering his previous stand that the property should be bought by the federal government as part of the national seashore or the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

Giacomini told the gathering that residents must propose to the county alternative uses for the land. "It is not enough to tell this developer to go away," he said. "We must come up with something more substantial than that."

Even at this meeting, utility district directors and residents began to map strategy against the development proposal.

Kayfetz suggested that opposition begin with the state Water Resources Control Board, to which Holter has applied for permission to build a 40-acre-foot dam along an unnamed creek on his property, ostensibly for agricultural purposes. "A dam that size would have 17 times the current water storage capability of Bolinas," he said.

The utility district has lodged a protest with the water board, saying the dam would eliminate one of four potential water sources being explored in a long-range water study for Bolinas.

Although Holter's property lies outside utility district bounds and directors have no direct authority to control development, Kayfetz noted that directors are considering a watershed ordinance that would give them control over excavation and road building.

"We could be damn scrupulous about that," said Kayfetz.

Holter said he has made no formal presentation of development concepts to any governmental agency, but that more definite plans will be complete in about six months.

One resident summed up the sentiment of last night's meeting and raised cheers from the audience when he told Holter: "We have nothing against you personally, but the community is not going to let this development happen."

Soviet Vessel Just Aiding In Joint Project

Local fishermen who expressed concern yesterday about a Russian vessel fishing within U.S. territorial waters off Marin County had no reason for alarm according to the Coast Guard.

The Russian vessel Siskar, was part of a joint Soviet-American research project studying fish habits and life patterns, Coast Guard spokesman said.

The Coast Guard said the vessel was part of a fleet from the Far Eastern Seas Fisheries Institute of Vladivostok, Russia, which is permitted to do research in the area from three to 12 miles off coast.

Representatives of the National Marine Fisheries Service of the Department of Commerce supervise the Russians research in the cooperative effort now in its fifth year, the spokesman said.

Plea Made To Weapons Count

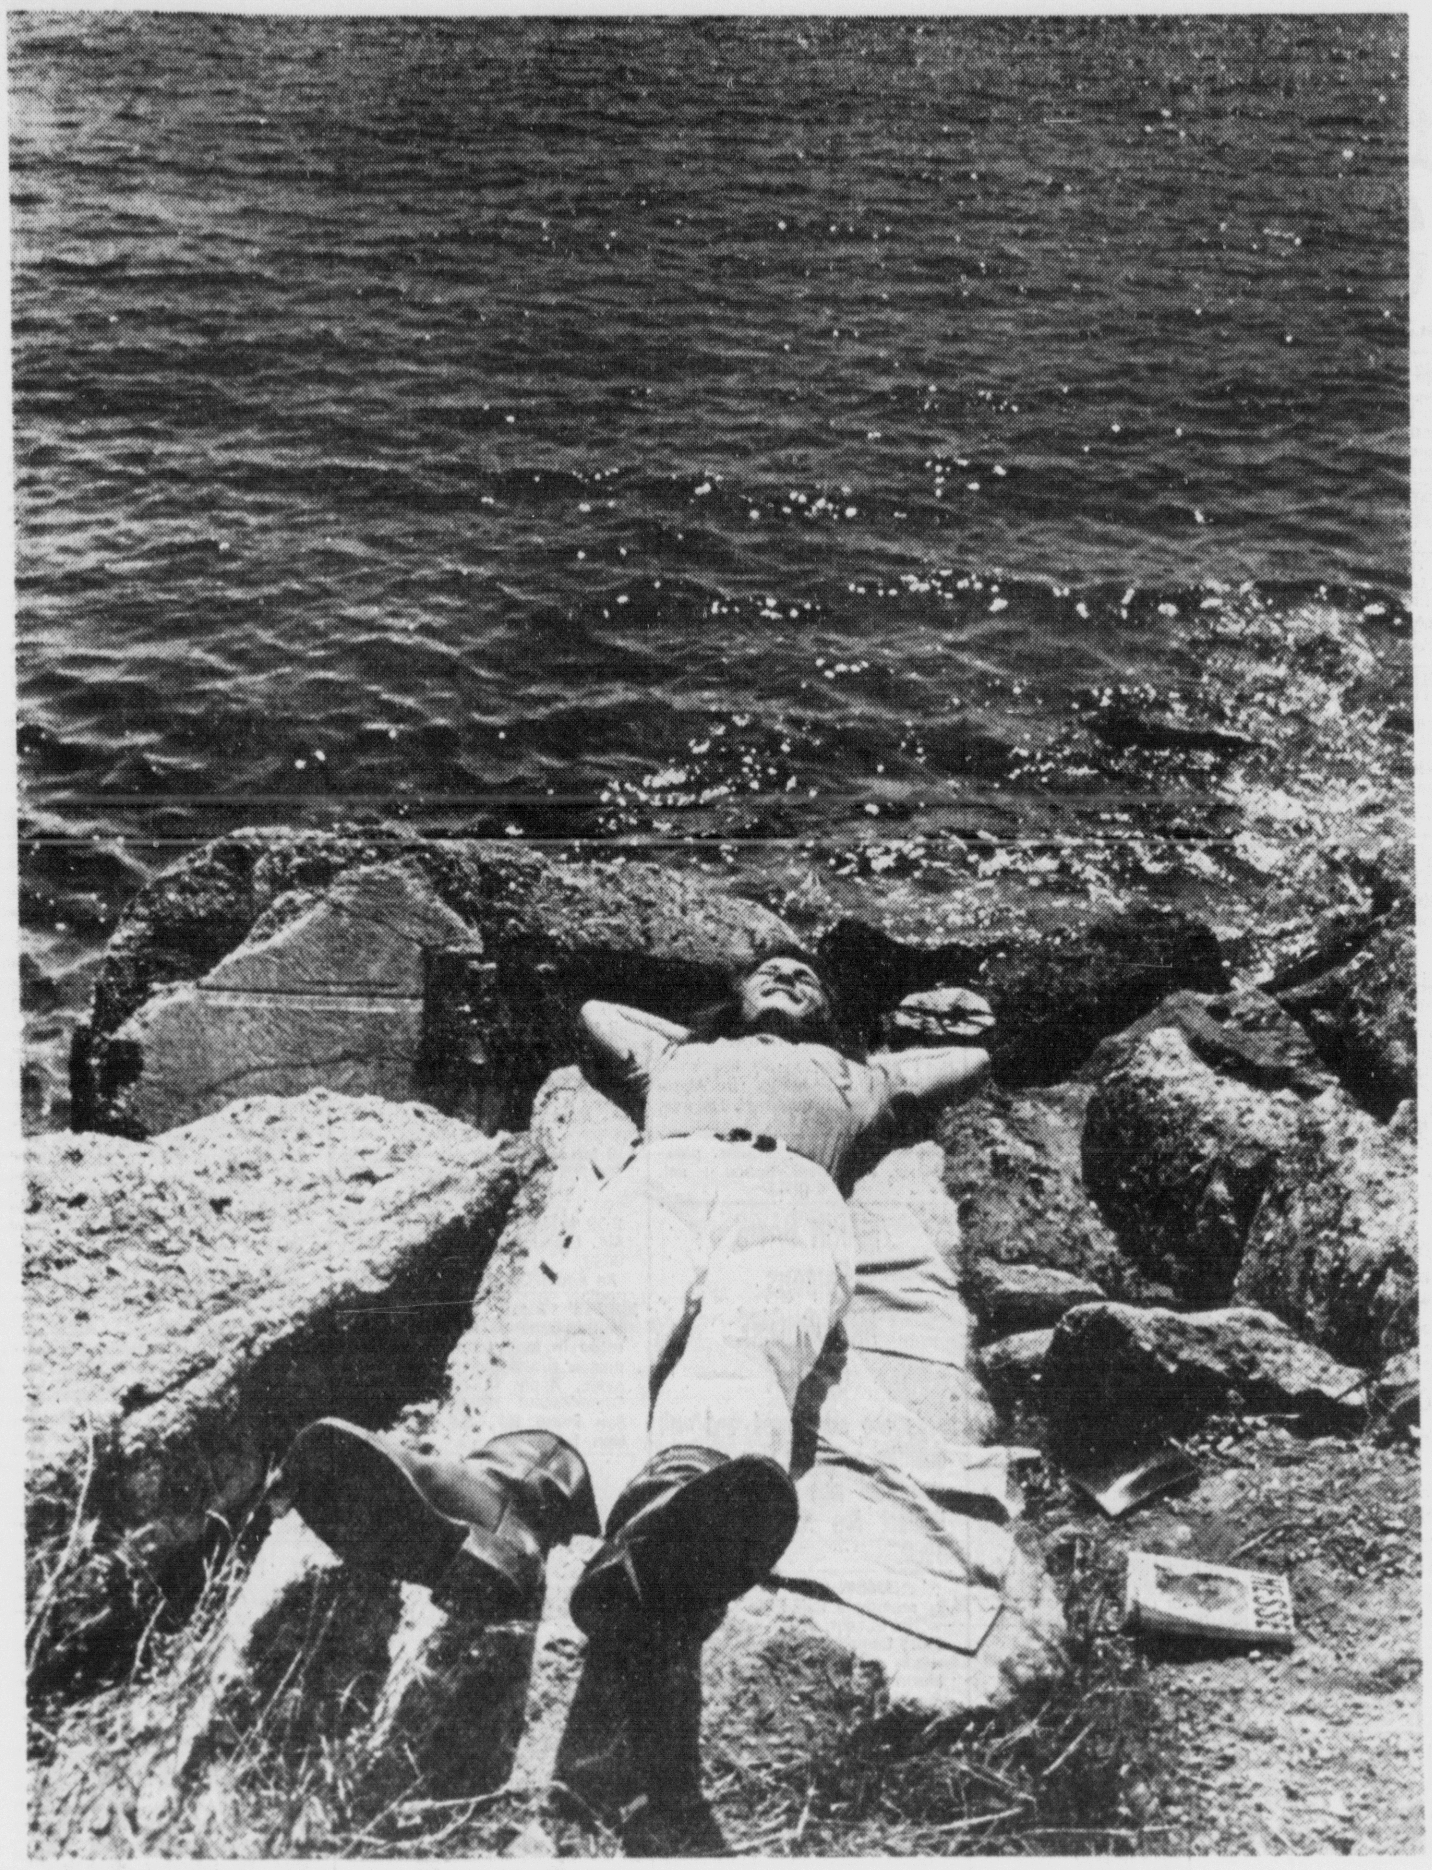
Judge Alexander J. McMahon set a preliminary hearing for Sept. 25 at 9:30 a.m.

Morenzoni was arrested Aug. 25 in Petaluma after police officers said they chased him from Sonoma at speeds of up to 110 miles-per-hour. Sonoma sheriff's deputies said Morenzoni crashed his car through a roadblock on Lakeville Highway and sent officers scrambling for cover behind a tree.



GETTING IT ALL TOGETHER

. . . the very much alive remainder, not the remains as feared (see photo, page 1), of Michael Bozich of San Rafael. Enjoying his upside down sunbath on Tiburon's waterfront, Bozich explained that his blood had been flowing to his feet all day and he decided to let it flow back to his brain. He said it felt great, but sunshine, blue skies, sparkling water and a good book may have helped.

Arrest Made In Petaluma

An 18-year-old Petaluman was arrested yesterday on suspicion of a July burglary.

Edward Bennett Harlow, 20 Co-Linda Drive, was booked into Sonoma County Jail and scheduled for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Police accused Harlow of the July 22 burglary at the home of William Hlebakos, 1300 Sunset Drive. Officers said jewelry, guns and a television set valued at $2,175 had been stolen. Many items were recovered.

Council Activities Will Be Reviewed

Mrs. Sestak will update Larkspur residents on city budget, new and proposed ordinances and upcoming council activities at the meeting. Topic proposals for the 4th Annual Larkspur Town Meeting to be held later in the fall will also be received, said Warren H. Patton, chairman of the group.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Thursday, Sept. 13, the 256th day of 1973 with 109 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

U.S. World War I Gen. John J. Pershing was born Sept. 13, 1860.

On this day in history: In 1788, Congress authorized the first U.S. national election, to be held "the first Wednesday in January next 1789."

In 1966, American astronaut Richard Gordon's scheduled 115-minute "space walk" was cut to 44 minutes when perspiration in his suit partially blinded him.

In 1967, howling mobs of Chinese Communists stormed and seized the British Consulate in Shanghai.

In 1971, New York State forces stormed and regained control of Attica State Prison. Twenty-eight convicts and nine hostages they held were killed.

A thought for the day: British philosopher Bishop Ricard Cumberland said, "It is better to wear out than rust out."

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Carbon monoxide, clean air.

Smoke particles, light air pollution.

Other areas:

San Francisco, light air pollution.

San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Adult Education Courses Offered

Courses reflecting every facet of contemporary interest will be offered in adult education to Marin and Southern Sonoma residents this fall.

Adult continuing education will begin the fall quarter Monday in Tamalpais and Novato High School districts and the Marin County Regional Occupational Program. Classes will begin at San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools on Sept. 24 and Petaluma began its fall semester on Sept. 4, 1973.

Registration for the San Rafael Schools classes will be held at the San Rafael High School cafeteria Monday, 7-9 p.m., and at the Terra Linda High School cafeteria on Tuesday, 7-9 p.m. Brochures are available at the administration building, Third and E Streets, telephone 456-0150, extension 218.

Classes for adults are designed to provide an opportunity for all persons 18 years of age and over to continue their education, whether to obtain a high school diploma, prepare for a different job or career, or obtain instruction in a vocation or special interest available in a variety of subjects in Marin and Sonoma counties.

Brochures indicating day, time and location of specific classes are available at stores, banks, schools and libraries in each district.

Although brochures in each district will list classes only in that area, anyone may attend classes offered at any location.

The College of Marin Community Education adult classes will start day and evening programs on the Kentfield campus and at other locations the week of Sept. 24, as will Indian Valley Colleges, in their new location at 720 Ignacio Boulevard in Novato. Information and brochures concerning the adult classes, as well as the concert-lecture series may be secured at the registrar's office. Registration may be accomplished in person or by mail.

Sonoma State College provides continuing education opportunities for adults beginning Monday in a six-county service area which includes Marin and Sonoma counties. Credit and noncredit extension courses, workshops, seminars, institutes and conferences are offered during the year. Further information regarding extension courses may be obtained from Leonard Swenson, coordinator of extension services, 1108 Stevenson Hall, Sonoma State College, 1801 East Cotati Ave., Rohnert Park, or by telephoning. A fall bulletin listing all classes will be forwarded upon request.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Woman's Arm Much To Fat For Taking Of Blood Pressure

A woman from the Bronx writes: "Most of the doctors I have consulted have not been able to take a good reading of my blood pressure. To be honest with you, my arm is too fat. It measures 22 inches and the cuff on their machine does not go around it. Can you please tell me where to buy a band large enough to do the job? Next time I see the doctor, I'll take it along."

This woman should look in the Yellow Pages under surgical appliances. Call a dealer who handles a variety of instruments and tell him your problem. As an alternative, ask your physician or his nurse to find out where you might purchase a larger sphygmomanometer cuff.

A STANDARD cuff is about five inches wide and there is considerable error when it is used on a person whose arm is too big or too little. The reading tends to be too high in persons with obese arms and too low in those with thin arms. When a wider or longer than usual cuff is used, there is a significantly lower indirect reading. Blood pressures may also be measured (and recorded) with electronic equipment.

It is more difficult to determine blood pressure with accuracy in infants and young children. One problem is in keeping them quiet and on their backs. The cuff should also be wide enough to cover about two-thirds of the upper arm.

In infants, the flush method is sometimes used. The cuff is applied and a bandage is wrapped around the forearm and hand to force blood from the extremity. The skin is now blanched and the pressure in the cuff is raised. When the bandage is removed the pressure in the cuff is lowered. The blood pressure reading corresponds to the exact point where the blanched part of the arm flushes.

THE BLOOD pressure can also be determined in the legs of infants and children when the same method as is used on the arms. Leg pressure usually is 20 points higher than that in the arms. Normal systolic and diastolic pressures of babies and toddlers are much lower than that of older children. Adult levels are usually reached by age 15 or 16

Medical questions will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, Ca. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

DOG DAYS

A. C. writes: Are dogs more likely to bite in hot weather?

REPLY

There are more bites in summer months but, then, more people are exposed to dogs in summer.

PERSPIRING FEET

A. writes: My feet perspire excessively all year — winter and summer. Could a lack of certain vitamins be responsible?

REPLY

No. Possibilities include ringworm infection or allergy to a substance in your shoes or hosiery. Many persons are bothered along this line for no apparent reason except that they are high-strung or are endowed with overactive sweat glands.

POISON IVY

M. writes: How soon after contact with poison ivy does discomfort occur?

REPLY

Usually within a few hours, although redness, itching, and swelling may not arise for several days. Our leaflet on poison ivy can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

AFTER A CORONARY

Mrs. L. R. writes: A woman just recovered from a heart attack, how long will it take to get back on her feet?

REPLY

In the past, most victims of heart attacks (coronary thrombosis) spent six weeks in bed and a chair and another six weeks recuperating. Nowadays, the period of bed rest has been lessened to two weeks with two to six weeks left for recovery. The majority then return to their previous occupation and continue at the job so long as it does not lead to chest pain or shortness of breath.

EATS BURNT MATCHES

REPLY

Judgment and maturity — not a lack of charcoal, carbon, or sulfur. Children usually outgrow this habit (pica) by age 4 or 5.

WATER COOLER CHATTER

A reader writes: I overheard some women talking at the water cooler. They said a woman could still have a period or two, even tho pregnant. All my life I have believed otherwise. I feel stupid asking you this question, but would like to know if it is possible.

REPLY

Yes, but it is unlikely unless a miscarriage is in the offing. One or two periods (spotting after conception are not rare. Instances have been reported of menstruation during the nine months.

MELON CAUSES CRAMPS

B. Y. writes: Why do I get a stomachache whenever I eat watermelon?

REPLY

Because you have an idiosyncrasy or allergy to this melon.

Singer Sued For Spanking

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Country music singer Faron Young was sued for $200,000 yesterday by the parents of a 6-year-old girl who said Young spanked their daughter during a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Catlett accused Young of striking their daughter Nora Jo "15 to 20 strokes of his hand on her legs and buttocks" when she refused to join Young on stage in Clarksburg, W. Va.

The federal court suit, which seeks $200,000 in damages, alleges Young grabbed the girl, turned her over, and without just cause or provocation beat her "with force and did willfully, maliciously and unlawfully assault" her. Mrs. Catlett said Nora Joe had gone to the edge of the stage to try to get autographs.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House yesterday authorized up to $240 million to help finance health maintenance organizations (HMO) for four years.

19-Year-Old Gets 30 Days For Burglary

A Larkspur teen-ager with an "umblemished record" has been given 30 days in jail and two years' probation for burglarizing a neighbor's home.

Patrick Alan Douglas, 19, of 62 Piedmont Road, was sentenced Tuesday by Superior Judge Charles Read Best for breaking into the Sharon Anderson home May 14. Douglas pleaded guilty Friday.

Michael McPherson, 18, of San Rafael, drew an identical sentence Aug. 21. He also admitted taking part in the burglary.

Douglas's probation report said he had never been in trouble with the law before the Anderson burglary.

Stolen Property Sentence Given

A San Rafael man has been given 90 days in jail and two years probation for possessing stolen property — enough to fill an apartment.

"You're going to get a break," Judge Charles Read Best told Marc Allan Litchfield, 22, on Tuesday as he sentenced the man. Best also ordered Litchfield to return the stolen items.

Best said Litchfield may be released to work or to go to school after attorney Robert Fairwell told the judge his client has enrolled in the College of Marin.

Litchfield pleaded guilty Aug. 7 to one count of possessing stolen property, although when originally arrested the Marin District Attorney's office said that single charge would be followed by others.

The goods found in Litchfield's apartment at 823 B Street included computers, cases of food, boots, cameras, a typewriter and many other items.

Litchfield named 19 firms in Marin and San Francisco which he burglarized, according to his probation report, and told arresting officers that everything in his apartment was stolen.

Several teen-agers who helped Litchfield in numerous burglaries were cited to juvenile authorities.

Pilot Stalled On The Ground

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Capt. Dan, who usually watches rush hour traffic jams from above, got arrested for disorderly conduct in the middle of one yesterday morning.

Daniel P. (Captain Dan) Rosenson, 40, a helicopter-borne traffic analyst for a Washington radio station, was accused of using "strong language" when he complained a police detour would make him late for takeoff.

Capt. Dan, who said he told the arresting officer he's "not a mind reader," plans to continue the argument over the $10 ticket in court.

Confirmed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate yesterday confirmed Alvin J. Arnett as director of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). The vote was 88- 3.

Program Is Planned To Cut Bike Thefts

A free municipal registration program to stem bicycle thefts in San Rafael will begin Saturday at local firehouses, the city administration announced yesterday.

Residents may register bicycles at the five neighborhood fire stations or at the police department between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m., according to Raymond L. Meador, city manager assistant.

Licensing, which consists of registering bikes and issuing adhesive serial labels, will not be offered at the main fire house on Fourth and C Streets, he added.

Neighborhood fire stations located at 210 Third Street, 30 Joseph Court, 46 Castro Avenue, 955 San Pedro Road and 650 Del Ganado will also offer free use of "operation identification" stencil guns for marking personal possessions and household goods.

Some 244 bicycles were stolen in San Rafael last year, and 100 have been stolen in the city so far this year, Meador said.

The bicycle registration program is part of a city wide crackdown on theft and burglary of all kinds, he said.

The North Marin Federation of Homeowners Association will work on restoration of Pioneer Memorial Cemetery in Novato starting at 8 a.m., Saturday, not 8 p.m. as erroneously printed in the Independent-Journal yesterday.

Who says all dichondra weed-n-feeds are alike? This one's really different

It's Scotts SUPER BONUS, and it's made by the exclusive Polyform process which means it gives prolonged results. An application now not only will clear out oxalis, chickweed, vevetgrass and similar weeds that are in your lawn, it will also prevent the sprouting of poa annua, foxtail barley and other winter weeds.
The high nitrogen feeding in SUPER BONUS (compare it with other brands) is exactly what dichondra lawns need to thrive. And because it is released slowly your lawn stays green longer. Try it this weekend, and see for yourself.

Simple spread Scotts PLUS-2 for Grass. It clears out English daisy, dandelions, clover and other ugly weeds from your lawn. It actually makes them shrivel and disappear, roots and all. The high greening power of PLUS-2 (1.8 lbs. of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. ft. of lawn) also makes your grass grow greener and sturdier. Helps it fill in where the weeds were.

Running Is Still 49ers' Problem

No one has to tell you about the weak San Francisco running game, but the problem has been compounded by the loss of last year's leading ground gainer, Vic Washington. Washington has been out of action with a cracked kneecap and backup halfback Jim Thomas has been sidelined with a virus. They might be activated prior to the Dolphin game, but because of the long layoff they couldn't be counted upon to have one of their better games.

Larry Schreiber and Ken Willard are ready to go at fullback, but Doug Cunningham will have to carry the full share at halfback. Only other halfback on the active roster at this time is Randy Jackson who is still studying his 49er playbook after coming to the team in trade from Buffalo last Monday. It is much too early for Jackson to know the 49er system.

THAT TRADE TO GET Jackson, in which the 49ers also obtained a future draft choice in exchange for starting defensive tackle Earl Edwards surprised me. I knew the 49ers were anxious to get Bob Hoskins into the starting lineup, but I thought the plans were to have him succeed Charlie Krueger, who at 36 can't be expected to be in the middle of all that havoc in the defensive line too much longer. Apparently the 49er coaching staff plan for Charlie's younger brother, Rolf, 25, to succeed him since he's the only other defensive tackle on the team.

Wide receiver, a position that seemed so overloaded just a few days ago, is another place which might give the 49ers some trouble. Since Terry Beasley has been declared out for the season, it leaves the team with only three WRs on the active roster, starters Gene Washington and John Isenbarger and rookie Ed Beverly. Another rookie, Mike Bettiga, is on the taxi squad.

Mike Holmes, this year's top choice from Texas Southern, pulled a muscle playing on the College All-Star team before ever reaching the 49er camp and hasn't played at all. The 1972 top pick, Beasley, was injured most of last season and now will miss his second season. The 1971 top pick, Tim Anderson of Ohio State, couldn't come to terms with the 49ers and chose instead to play in the Canadian Football League. They say bad luck runs in threes, so maybe the 49ers' first round jinx is over.

I WAS SURPRISED to see a recent list of odds posted by Harrah's Tahoe Racebook which had the 49ers as 5-2 favorites to win the National Football Conference. I can see the team picked to win the Western Division again, but without a strong running game it would be too hard for a team to go all the way to the Super Bowl. The racebook odds are sure to change very soon.

The 49ers, despite having perhaps their roughest schedule ever, should win the division title with the talent they have on the club. But reaching the Super Bowl? The ground game will have to improve before I go that far out on a limb.

Tams' Boss Finley Vows To Lift Team

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Charlie Finley, owner of the American Basketball Association's Memphis Tams, promised to bring the club out of oblivion today.

In a telephone call to the Memphis Commercial Appeal last night, Finley said he told trainer Don Sparks to open training camp today and to reopen the club's office at the Mid-South Coliseum.

Finley, who also owns the Oakland A's and California Seals, said he would hire a coach for the team today and had already made one man an offer. "I am still waiting for a yes or no from this man," he said. "Until I receive an answer, it would not be fair to bandy his name about.

"If he does not take the job, then I will hire someone else I have in mind tomorrow."

The millionaire insurance executive from Chicago bought the Memphis club last summer and saved the team from being disbanded. After the Tams compiled the league's worst record last season and Finley said he lost $500,000, he announced that the club was being sold to a group of Providence, R. I., businessmen.

When the league trustees failed to approve the Providence deal, the future of the franchise appeared uncertain. Coach Bob Bass had quit to become head of ABA officials, the team office here was closed, no tickets for the coming season had been sold and almost none of the players had contracts.

Finley promised last night that all of the problems will be corrected, with the new coach tackling the job of negotiating players' contracts.

"I'm still going to try to do everything possible to bring a winning club to Memphis," he said. "I realize we didn't have a great team last year, but we hope to do better this season.

REED TO TALK AT BOOSTERS' 1ST MEETING

Quarterback Joe Reed will be guest speaker at the first meeting of the Marin County 49er Goal Rushers Tuesday evening at New Joe's restaurant in Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera.

All Goal Rushers dinner meetings will be evening affairs this year, starting at 7 p.m. following 6 p.m. cocktail hours. Meeting dates, following Tuesday's opener, are Oct. 2, 16, 30; Nov. 13, 27, and Dec. 11.

In addition to Reed, there will be a showing of the 1972 49er highlight film. Master of ceremonies will be Dave Scofield of Larkspur, public address announcer at Candlestick Park for 49er games.

Tam, Redwood Gridders Open Tomorrow

Tamalpais High School will have a new coach and Redwood will have a new lineup when the two teams kick off the 1973 Marin and southern Sonoma prep football season tomorrow afternoon.

Tam will host Washington in San Francisco and Redwood will entertain Sacred Heart of S.F. in 3:30 p.m. games.

Tomorrow night's schedule finds Drake visiting Petaluma High at Durst Field, San Rafael playing at Vallejo and Tomales journeying to Cloverdale, all at 8 p.m. At 6 o'clock, Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park and new Casa Grande of Petaluma will play in the Sonoma County League jamboree in Sebastopol.

Saturday afternoon, San Marin will meet Canyon of Hayward at Novato High, 1:30 p.m.; Novato will visit Riordan of San Francisco at Kezar Stadium, 2 p.m.; and Marin Catholic will host Galileo from the city at 2 p.m.

Saturday night, Terra Linda will play Concord at Mt. Diablo High, and St. Vincent of Petaluma will host De La Salle of Concord at Durst Field, both at 8 p.m.

Tamalpais' new coch is Jess Racines, who moved up from the junior varsity when Mike Davlin resigned. Racines inherits a 2-6 team with a future brighter than its past.

The Indians' lineup last year was crammed with sophomores and juniors whose experience will be an asset this season. Foremost among them is tailback Fred Adams, last year the sixth-leading ground gainer in the Marin County Athletic League.

Redwood coach Phil Roark watched happily as his Giants went 8-1 last year and shared the MCAL title with Terra Linda. He then watched sadly as most of them were graduated.

Gone are such standouts as linemen Bob Fulton, Scott Cochrane and Ken Massucco, pass-catchers Matt Gondak and Katsumi Johnson and runners Daryl Edralin and Mike Connor.

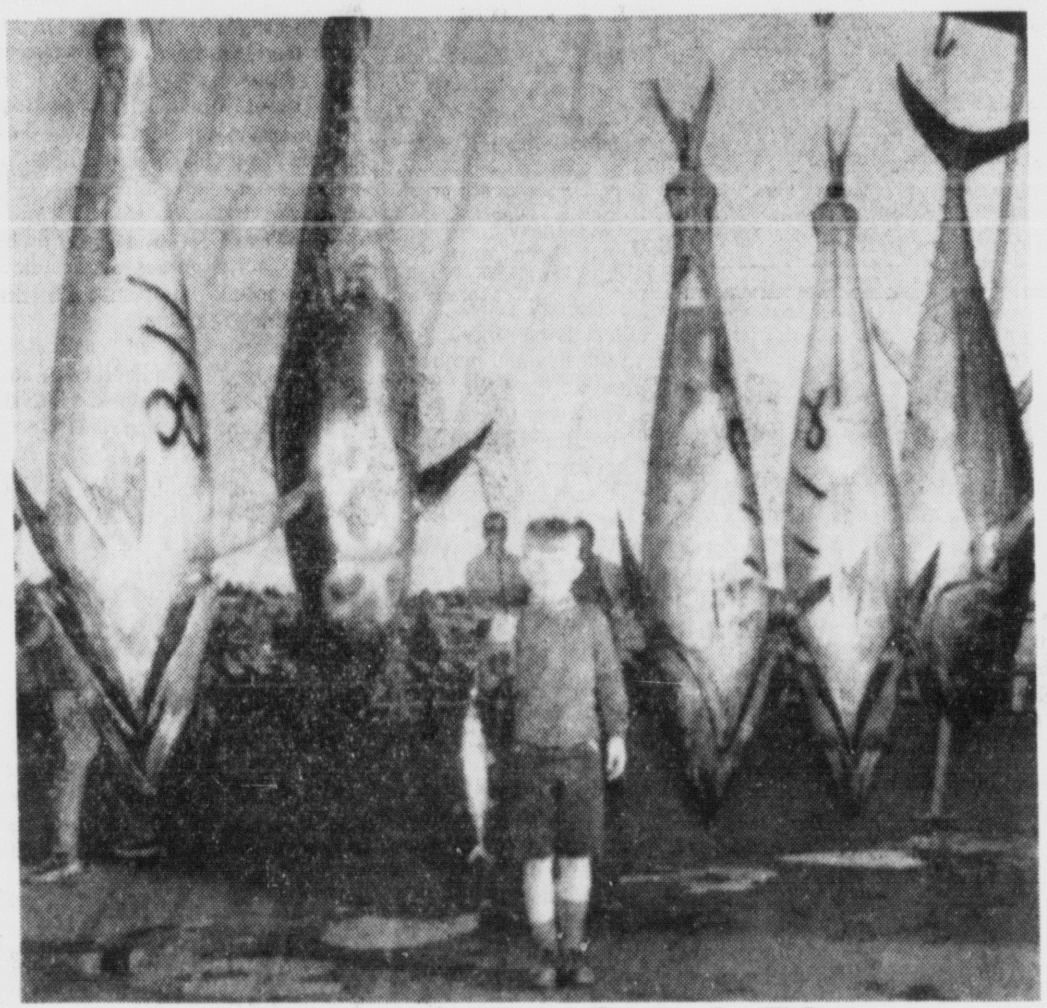
Redwood's foe Sacred Heart was 0-10 last year, but is big and returns many key players, according to Roark.

Tamalpais' foe Washington is a pass-oriented team with quarterback Robert Gaddis. The Eagles scrimmaged Redwood last Thursday and were outscored, five touchdowns to two. Tam held an intra-squad scrimmage Saturday.



A SMALL, BUT PROUD CATCH

It might not be a record catch, but little James Richard, 9, of East Gloucester, Mass., was still proud of that mackerel dangling on the end of his line yesterday. Those fish behind him? They are the huge tuna caught in the U.S. Atlantic Tuna Tournament in Gloucester. The fishing boats in the tuna derby were berthed at the Cape Ann Marina for the largest controlled deep sea fishing contest of its kind in the world.

RUDI TO FACE RANGERS

A's Off Today; Outfielders Can Use Rest For Recovery

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland A's have a day of rest today and their outfielders apparently can use it.

In dropping the third and final game of the series to Kansas City 5-0 last night, the A's were missing outfielders Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi and Jesus Alou. Only Rudi is expected to return to the starting lineup tomorrow night when the A's open a weekend series against Billy Martin's Texas Rangers.

Jackson suffered a hamstring pull in Texas last week and probably won't be ready until Sunday. Alou, who sustained a hamstring in Tuesday's game with the Royals, will be able to pinch-hit but not play for about a week. Rudi has leg cramps.

Hal McRae of the Royals drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Paul Splittorff notched his 16th victory last night. The win put the Royals within five games of Oakland in the American League West with only 17 games remaining.

"We're still in this thing," said elated Royals Manager Jack McKeon, "but the A's have a good ball club. We could win, it could happen...

"One or two more injuries, though, and the A's could be in a lot of trouble."

Lefty Ken Holtzman started for the A's last night but was touched for nine hits in eight

Giants Visit San Diego After Flag Dreams Fade

SAN DIEGO (AP) — With their briefly inflated bubble for hopes of a pennant broken by three straight losses in Atlanta, the San Francisco Giants flew here today to open a four-game series tonight with the San Diego Padres.

The Giants' 10-4 setback by the Braves last night was the fifth in a row after a seven-game winning streak. San Francisco now trails Cincinnati by eight games and Los Angeles by five in the National League West.

But Ron Bryant, 21-11, working with a raw blister on the middle finger of his left hand, couldn't hold it, and the Braves ripped him for three runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth before reliever Randy Moffitt took over.

Marty Perez had a solo homer in the third and a two-run double doublt in the fourth off Bryant.

The Giants' first run was driven in by Garry Maddox in the first inning with his third triple in two nights. It followed a double by Bobby Bonds.

Gary Thomasson's second-inning homer broke a 1-1 tie, and Chris Speier also homered for the Giants, his 10th of the season, scoring the final San Francisco run in the seventh.

Raiders Wary Of Tarkenton

Tarkenton led the Vikings to a pre-season victory over the Raiders and the two teams open the regular 1973 season Sunday in Bloomington, Minn.

"Other quarterbacks are predictable but Tarkenton is not," said Raiders linebacker Gerald Irons. "We never know what he's going to do. In fact, I don't even think he knows what he's going to do."

Phil Villapiano, another Raider linebacker, said Tarkenton keeps the linebackers on their toes with short passes to the backs and quick sideline tosses.

"When you think Tarkenton is going to throw outside, he throws in," said Villapiano. "He's tough when we're man to man but when we go into a zone

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Billingham Provides Punch

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Jack Billingham isn't supposed to be much of a hitter but he may have thrown the knockout punch at the Los Angeles Dodgers last night.

Billingham's bases-loaded, three-run double highlighted a five-run second inning that carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-3 victory over the Dodgers. That knocked the Dodgers five games behind the Reds in the National league's Western Division and may have just about killed their pennant hopes.

"I can't understand why all the fuss just because I slammed a bases-loaded double," Billingham quipped after the game as his temmates congratulated him.

Billingham, who's been claiming he's a better hitter than his 3-for-84 record would indicate, says he remembers hitting .450 when he batted cleanup in high school in Florida. "Of course, my mom was the scorekeeper and that might have had something to do with it," he laughed.

In the other games, Atlanta routed the San Francisco Giants 10-4, Montreal edged St. Louis 2-1, the New York Mets downed Philadelphia 3-2 and Pittsburgh downed Chicago 4-2.

The Eastern Division race keeps getting tighter. St. Louis' loss to Montreal dropped the Cards a half-game behind Pittsburgh while the Expos are only a game out.

Steve Rogers pitched out of two bases-loaded and none out jams to pace Montreal over St. Louis. He was helped by the fine fielding of shortstop Tim Foli and first baseman Mike Jorgensen. "You'll never see a shortstop and a first baseman on the same team on the same night perform at that level," Manager Gene Mauch said.

The Expos now are shooting for their first pennant. "I keep looking for the Pirates to get hot but they haven't so far," Bob Bailey said. "Maybe there's no reason to think they will unless Steve Blass has found himself." Bailey's ninth inning homer decided the game.

The Pirates were able to beat Chicago as Bruce Kison, called up from the minors recently, limited the Cubs to six hits in seven innings before Dave Giusti came on to get the save. Bob Robertson's three-run homer in the fourth inning gave the Pirates the punch they needed.

Homers by Wayne Garrett and John Milner helped New York down Philadelphia. Jon Matlack got the win with relief help from Tug McGraw. Wayne Twitchell was tagged with the defeat. The victory moved the Mets to within 2 ½ games of first place in the West.

Riggs Raps King's 'Play' Of Illness

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bobby Riggs, the 55-year-old tennis hustler, claims Billie Jean King is trying to hustle him with a fake illness to gain public support before their $100,000 battle next week but the scheme won't work.

Mrs. King is undergoing tests at Hilton Head, S.C., and doctors suspect she may be suffering from the flu and low blood sugar.

"I think this is just a sympathy play on her part to soften up the public so everybody will be in there rooting for her," Riggs said yesterday. "She is trying to soften me up so I'll take it easy on her.

"It's not gonna work. Ol' Bobby has been through too many tricks like that. That's like the football coach making the other team three touchdowns favorites and planning to beat them all the time."

Mrs. King was forced to withdraw from the U.S. Open last week because of illness and dizziness and Tuesday she canceled her appearance in next week's Virginia Slims tourney stop at Houston.

However, the world's top woman player says she will be ready for the Sept. 20 winner-take-all match against the self-proclaimed male chauvinist who promises to set women's tennis back 20 years.

"I just want to rest and get ready," Billie Jean told promoters for the match by telephone Wednesday. "I'm going to beat Roberta's brains out."

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yastrzemski's Showing Is Reminiscent Of 1967

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Yaz won the Triple Crown six years ago while leading the Boston Red Sox to the American League pennant with an incredible stretch run performance. While no threat for Triple Crown honors this season, Yaz did rip his 14th and 15th homers and drive in five runs last night to lead Boston to a 7-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Despite the victory, Boston dropped another half game behind first place Baltimore in the American League East. The Orioles took two from Milwaukee 4-1 and 5-3 to increase their lead to six games and reduce their magic number to 12 with 18 games remaining.

"He's doing it all," said Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko, referring to Yastrzemski's latest performance which has seen him hitting at a .391 pace since Aug. 2, to raise his batting average to .298 and increase his RBI total to 80.

"He's the first to help out, too," added Kasko, taking note of Yaz' switch to third base to fill the gap left by injured Rico Petrocelli. "He volunteered to play first base when we needed a first baseman and he was eager to play third when we needed help there. That's big thing for a superstar like Yaz to do."

In the only other AL games, Kansas City blanked Oakland 5-0, Texas beat Minnesota 5-2 and California edged Chicago 6-5.

Rich Coggins, battling teammate Al Bumbry for AL Rookie of the Year honors, had three hits, two runs batted in and scored twice to give the Orioles their first game triumph and help Jim Palmer notch his 20th victory for the fourth consecutive season. Coggins tripled in the eighth inning of the nightcap and scored on Boog Powell's single to snap a 3-3 tie and provide reliever Grant Jackson with his eighth win without a loss.

Tom Grieve's two-run homer and the clutch relief pitching of rookie Rick Henninger gave Texas its win over Minnesota. Henninger allowed one run and six hits over 5 2-3 innings to pick up his first major league win. Harmon Killebrew slugged his 545th career homer for Minnesota's first run.

Bob Oliver's third hit of the game, a two-out single in the eighth, scored Winston Llenas with the tie-breaking run in California's triumph over the White Sox.

Ex-Grid Coach Woolley Is Indicted

Combined AP & UPI

GALVESTON, Tex. — Former Ball High School football coach Joe Woolley, whose resignation was demanded after he admitted tampering with a Oklahoma football player's grade transcript, was indicted yesterday in connection with the grade rigging scandal.

A Galveston County grand jury indicted Woolley on the misdemeanor offense of "altering an academic record." Lynn Nix, a former vice principal and an assistant coach under Woolley at the time of the grade tampering, also was indicted on the charge.

Woolley admitted last April he changed the transcripts of former Ball High player Kerry Jackson. The Sooners, ranked No. 2 at the end of last season, revealed the doctored transcripts and forfeited eight victories in which Jackson, then a freshman quarterback, played.

Oklahoma also was placed on two years probation by the Big Eight conference because of the rules infraction.

Woolley first was demoted by school superintendent Eli Douglas, but the school board later voted to reinstate him by a 4-3 vote.

The action prompted Woolley's assistant coaches to resign and the ensuing controversy resulted in Douglas' demanding Woolley's resignation last July.

WASHINGTON — The House is expected to approve today a bill that would lift the local television blackouts of home pro football games that are sold out three days in advance.

The Senate passed a similar bill last Thursday by a vote of 76-6. If the House approves the bill, sponsored by Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., there is a strong possibility that some of Sunday's National Football League season openers would be shown locally, a precedent-shattering situation.

BLASS UNIMPRESSIVE

Palmer Relates To Pirate Pitcher's Woes

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pitchers are like cops.

When one of them is seriously hurt or suddenly can't cut it anymore, the others become genuinely concerned for him, the feeling obviosly being hey, that easily could happen to me.

Maybe that's how come Jim Palmer's ears perked up when someone happened to mention that Steve Blass, who has been pathetic all year, finally looked good the other day, at least better than he had in a long time, even though he was beaten.

His .682 career won-lost percentage is better than any other pitcher in either major league and right now he leads the Orioles in earned run average.

For consistency over the past five years, no one can touch Jim Palmer, and in another sense, no one would ever care to touch the kind of consistency Steve Blass showed with Pittsburgh until this past Tuesday when he went as many as five innings for the first time since June 1.

"I honestly feel very sorry for him, and I think the reason I do is because I can relate to him so well," says Palmer, who never pitched against Blass but recalls perfectly how the Pirates' 32-year-old righthander closed out the Orioles in the 1971 World Seriee.

"He's almost in the same situation I was in back in 1967."

Palmer's trouble was purely physical. He had arm trouble and spent the better part of two years in the minors winning only one game in all that time.

Blass' problems basically are mental. He insists his arm is sound but wildness has been the chief contributor to his present 3-8 record.

Blass was so wild this year, he reached a point where he was dropped from the rotation.

Bill Virdon, Pittsburgh's ex-manager, said Blass probably wouldn't start again this season, but when Danny Murtaugh succeeded Virdon last week, he gave Blass another chance to start Tuesday against the Cubs and Blass pitched shutout ball until Randy Hundley homered with one on in the fifth inning.

The A's put runners in base off Splittorff in every inning but the third. However, two double plays and a pair of strikeouts kept the A's from scoring.

Tomorrow night, Jim Hunter of the A's goes after his 19th victory against the Rangers. He has lost four. Opposing Hunter will be fireballer Jim Bibby who hurled a no-hitter against Oakland July 30 and came back with a two-hit job in eight innings last week.

South Africa's Player Favored In $150,000 Heritage Open Golf

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (UPI)—South African Gary Player, fresh from his first tour win of the season and shooting for $1 million in career winnings, was the man to beat as the $150,000 Heritage Open golf tournament began today.

U.S. Open champion Johnny Miller, the defending Heritage titlist, and a pair of one-time Wake Forest University golfers, Arnold Palmer and Lanny Wadkins, also had to be rated as favorites among the invitational field of 102.

Player picked up $20,000 for his Southern Open win last week, boosting his career earnings to $973,000 on the American tour, and the Heritage's top prize could move him into the company of Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino as a winner of more than $1 million in tour money.

More than momentum and financial incentive, though, the key to success for Player appeared to be the course, the par 71, 6,655-yard Harbour Town links.

Player, who leaves Monday for his South African home, had never before played in the five-year-old Heritage, always held before in November after he had departed for the season.

But Miller is back to defend his title, won by a stroke over Weiskopf, and the memory of it is still fresh in his mind.

"The Heritage was big for me," said Miller, who plays out of a Hilton Head Island Golf Club. "It was kind of like winning at home."

Palmer, whose pinpoint driver was made for the Harbour Town golf links, won the initial tournament in 1969 but said he entered this year's event plagued by a cold.

He could find formidable competition in Wadkins, winner of two tournaments and almost $200,000 as a tour sophomore this season.

"If you concentrate on stopping Tarkenton's passes to the backs, he'll probably hit John Gilliam long. You can't overplay any one thing."

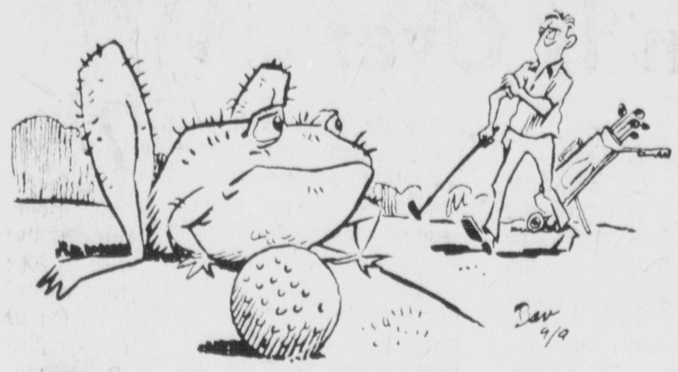
TREVINO TALKS GOLF



The Froghair Stroke

By LEE TREVINO

In Texas we call the collar of the green the "froghair." And we call the guy who always chips from it a dear friend. He's nicer to have around than Daddy Warbucks, because he'll be paying off regular.

Putt from the froghair any time you have a decent chance. It's a judgment shot, but the odds are you'll get the ball closer to the hole with a putter than by chipping.

The froghair has grain just like the green. You have to allow for it.

I think Ben Hogan once said putts from the collar of a green usually go to the right. Maybe that's because when we try to hit a putt harder, as from the froghair, there's a tendency to push it. I've seen some of those babies jump to the left out of the froghair because of the grain.

If the grass isn't smooth, or if you're too deep in the froghair to putt, chip with a club with just enough loft to reach the green. That ball will do you more favors rolling than flying.

And when you hear a guy say he always chips with a "favorite" club — it's usually a 7-iron — grab his name and phone number. He'll help pay your grocery bill.

Dale, Roland End Pro Grid Careers

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Carroll Dale, a key member of Vince Lombardi's great Green Bay Packer teams of the 1960s, and Johnny Roland, a former Rookie of the Year, apparently have ended their playing careers.

Dale, 35, a wide receiver on Lombardi's three-time National Football League and two-time Super Bowl champions, was waived by the Packers yesterday. He reportedly has been offered a job in the Green Bay organization.

Roland, beaten out of his starting position at running back by rookie Terry Metcalf, announced his retirement after seven years with the St. Louis Cardinals. Roland, 30, was voted Rookie of the Year in 1966.

Elsewhere in the NFL as teams prepared for their season openers this weekend, Chicago Coach Abe Gibron denied reports that star middle linebacker Dick Butkus is nursing an injured knee and will not play Sunday against Dallas.

"All I can say is that Butkus will be in the starting lineup Sunday," Gibron said. Butkus missed much of the pre-season and several practice sessions because of the injury.

Seeds Fall In Aptos Tennis Play

APTOS, Calif. (UPI)—Seeded players in the $37,500 National Hardcourt Tennis championships apparently have lost their rabbit's legs.

U.S. Davis Cupper Erik van Dillen of San Mateo, Calif., today is the lone seed still alive in the event after two rounds. Dillen, 22, the No. 7 seed, downed Ray Moore of South Africa 6-2, 7-6 yesterday to gain today's quarterfinals.

Joining top-seeded Jan Kodes on the sidelines yesterday were No. 2 seed Patrick Proisy of France, Jiri Hrebec, No. 3 of Czechoslovakia, and Dick Crealy, No. 8 of Australia.

Tom Edlefsen of Los Angeles finished off the disastrous round for seeded players by defeating Proisy 4-6, 7-6 and 6-4.

Crealy was turned back by Onny Parun of New Zealand 6-3, 6-4 while Hrebec was ousted by recent UCLA grad Jeff Austin of Rolling Hills, Calif., 6-3, 6-7, 6-0.

Youngsters Mike Machette of USC and Belvedere and Dick Bohrnstedt advanced with straight set victories. Machette downed Fred McNair of Chevy Chase, Md., 6-4, 6-4.

MINOR LEAGERS

Dillon Ends His 2-Month Drought

Russ Dillon of Novato, struggling through a disappointing year in Savannah, Ga., ended a two-month drought last week by winning his fourth game of the rapidly-waning season.

Dillon, a left-handed pitcher owned by the Atlanta Braves, broke a three-game losing streak scattering five hits in a seven-inning stint, striking out six and walking two, according to Player Periscope statistical service of Novato.

Marin's other minor-league pitcher, Dewey Forry of San Rafael, was touched for five hits and four walks in three innings for the Bakersfield Dodgers, but escaped without a defeat. He is 9-3 with a 3.23 ERA in the Class A California League.

Novato's John Dolinsek, gripped by a savage late-season slump, was only two for 27 for Denver in the Class AAA American Association. His average, once over .300. sank to .274 for the Houston farm club.

Another Novatan, Tom Thomas, stroked five hits in 18 times up for Salem, Va., in the Class A Carolina League. He hit two doubles and drove in one run, giving him a .290 average, 11 homers and 85 runs batted in for the Pittsburgh farm.

Two other Marinites played little and one — Mike Parnow of Fairfax — was idle. Tom Olson of Kentfield was zero for one for Marion, Va., and is hitting. 286 for the New York Mets' affiliate in the rookie Appalachian League. Clifford Hall of Marin City was two for seven for Quincy, Ill., in the rookie Midwest League, lifting his average to .271.

49er Back Jackson Confident

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—If confidence counts, then the San Francisco 49ers have got a good prospect in newly-obtained running back Randy Jackson.

Jackson, who survived a plane crash in which 29 out of 40 died while playing at Wichita State, was obtained from Buffalo in a trade that sent defensive tackle Earl Edwards to the Bills for Jackson and a draft pick.

"I think I can run inside or outside and consider myself a good blocker," said Jackson, who figures to see a lot of action Sunday at Miami since Vic Washington and Jimmy Thomas are both out with injuries.

"My main problem here will be getting used to the numbering system, which is different from Buffalo's," the 212-pound Jackson added.

Recall Not Answer For Corte Madera

We have been more than a little disturbed by the recall campaign against Corte Madera Mayor Holmes S. Norville and City Councilmen Edward W. Colthurst and Harold B. Wagstaff.

Central to the recall effort — although opponents of the three council members have charged them with an assortment of other alleged deficiencies — is Corte Madera's redevelopment plan. And central to it is the proposal by Ernest W. Hahn and associates to build a multi-million-dollar regional shopping center on 75 acres east of Highway 101.

The council majority has backed Hahn's proposal, even to the extent of voting to use redevelopment agency funds (acquired by a "freeze" on taxes generated by improvements in the town's redevelopment area) to install public improvements that will benefit the center. It also approved changing the town's general plan to provide for the center.

THE RECALL, then, is aimed at ousting Norville, Colthurst and Wagstaff from office so they can be replaced — the recall forces hope — by council members who will block the shopping center.

Surveys conducted for major department store companies reportedly show need for a new shopping center somewhere in the general area. Hahn, who has a record of developing successful, well-designed shopping centers, obviously believes the location is a good one. The land now is idle and contributing little to the tax rolls.

However, we have questioned this use of the redevelopment device. What is proposed in Corte Madera is not redevelopment, since the land is not now developed. Also, a new shopping center east of the highway may very well sound the death knell for Corte Madera's existing shopping center.

The issue hinges on a value judgement: Whether Corte Madera (and Marin) will be more benefitted by using redevelopment funds to make possible a new regional shopping center in a new location, or by using such funds to redevelop within existing built-up areas of Corte Madera — or by no redevelopment in Corte Madera at all.

OPINIONS ON this may — and do — vary widely.

But it is not a reason for recalling three members of the city council, all of whom have good records of public service.

In a letter to the editor which appeared in yesterday's Independent-Journal, Anne L. Ellinwood of Tiburon suggested a way out.

Miss Ellinwood, who has served on the Tiburon City Council and in various other public capacities, suggested that a referendum be held on the shopping center-redevelopment issue. If a majority of Corte Madera citizens do not wish such development, they can stop it by their referendum votes. If a majority go along with it, the council's position is vindicated.

This would put the issue up to vote, rather than the careers of three city council members.

It is too late now to call off next Tuesday's recall election. But we would urge that Corte Maderans — whatever their feelings about the proposed shopping center — vote to keep Norville, Colthurst and Wagstaff in office, then attack the center through the referendum route if they so desire.

WE VERY MUCH doubt that recall of these three men, all of whom have served Corte Madera well enough to win re-election to the positions they now hold, would benefit the community.

We doubt even more that they would be replaced with three council members who would do a better job for their town.

Probe Of Lawyers' Roles In Watergate No Surprise

By EARL G. WATERS

It is not suprising that the California State Bar has undertaken an investigation of the conduct of its members involved in the Watergate fiasco. It would have been astonishing had the board of governors not voted to do so.

The California lawyer organization has been working hard to improve the profession and its image. This has taken the form of revising rules of conduct, more efficient disposition of disciplinary matters, and higher standards for the profession.

That is not to say that the California Bar has not conducted itself well in the past. In fact the 1970 American Bar Association report, headed by retired Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, apparently relied heavily upon the disciplinary structure of the California Bar in commending to other states the need for reforms to keep abreast of problems commending to other states the need for reforms to keep abreast of problems.

But the impetus of the Clark report, along with the admonitions of Chief Justice Warren Burger of the need for bar associations to protect the public from careless or ill-trained lawyers and the urgings of Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger to make incompetence a grounds for disciplinary action, has spurred the California Bar on to greater efforts for improvement.

ONLY LAST MARCH, in an article published by the Hastings Law Journal, two members of the bar, one a former chairman of the State Bar's disciplinary board, related the efforts which have been made recently for higher standards for California lawyers.

In the conclusion of the article it was stated: "The state bar of California has proven its determination to maintain effective self discipline among its membership. Unfortunately, the general public seems largely unaware of the progress which has been achieved in this area."

This lofty attitude, admittedly based upon achievements, nevertheless would pale in the face of the storm of indignation over the confessed misconduct of attorneys connected with Watergate if the legal profession failed to act.

The demands for appropriate action came not only from the public but from the profession itself. Discussions of the problem figured heavily at the 96th annual convention of the American Bar Association. Since some of the principals of Watergate are members of the California Bar, its responsibility was clear.

NOT SO WELL KNOWN is that the California Bar currently budgets upward of $1 million annually for full-time investigators and hearing officers in its efforts to maintain the high professional standards it has set for its members.

It has also established a client security fund through taxation of its members. The fund serves to insure the public against the infrequent defalcations of members who misappropriate client funds.

High on its list of priority problems is the issue of dealing with incompetence. Gross negligence, commingling of funds, and making false statements to clients are grounds for disbarment, but incompetence is not.

"The price is right. Now that brings us to the mortgage loan."

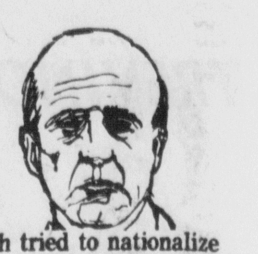
Nixon Tells Israel: Honeymoon Is Over



One extremely new element was added — perhaps restored would be the more accurate word — to the world scene the other day. President Nixon at his press conference Sept. 5 announced, implicitly, his readiness to use the leverage which the United States possesses over Israel for the purpose of promoting a settlement between the Israelis and the Arabs.

OIL POWER
CHouston
HOUSTON CHRONICLE
1973, The Register and Tribune Syndicate

The Beat of a Different Drummer

The leverage has always existed.

The United States is the principal supplier of modern arms to Israel and her main source of essential funds. The arms supply could be shut off, as the French have done; it could be rationed, as the British have done. And tax immunity could, at least in theory, be withdrawn from contributions to the United Jewish Appeal.

The UJA is probably the biggest and perhaps only fund-raising organization in the United States whose moneys go to serve the national purposes of a foreign state. There is no other such organization of comparable size and purpose whose contributions are tax exempt in the United States.

THE SEVERAL PRONGS of this leverage have never been used vigorously. They were available until February of 1972 as a potential means of exerting influence on Israel. But at that time, with a presidential election coming up in the United States, Mr. Nixon agreed to lay the leverage aside. In return, the Israeli ambassador in the United Sates noted publicly and explicitly Mr. Nixon's unusual friendship towards Israel.

Times change. The election is over. Gasoline and heating oil prices are rising in the United States. There is talk of oil rationing when winter comes. And Saudi Arabia alone has the ability to decide whether oil and gasoline will be plentiful, or in short supply, in the United States, this winter — and for many winters to come.

In talking about all this at his press conference Mr. Nixon noted hopefully that "oil without a market, as Mr. Mossadegh learned many, many years ago, doesn't do a country much good. We and Eruope are the market."

But the situation is different now. Oil was plentiful and from many sources when Mr. Mossadegh tried to nationalize Persian (Iranian) oil. And world oil consumption was very much lower than now. It was a buyers' market. Now its a sellers' market and King Faisal of Saudi Arabi is going ahead as fast as possible — and oil revenue is piling up unused in his treasury. He doesn't have to sell any more than is necessary to keep up his development program. He could reduce his present production rate without harm to his own country. Besides, any oil he doesn't sell now will be worth more later.

IT IS TO KING Faisal's advantage to hold down on oil production. It is almost a political necessity to Mr. Nixon to have that production rate go up. King Faisal has enormous leverage on Mr. Nixon. And, ever so gently, he has been letting Washington know that he knows that he has this leverage.

There is nothing so crude as an overt threat. King Faisal is one of the world's most polished diplomats. All that happens is Saudi restraint in talking about increases in the rate of oil production.

In theory, and eventually, the United States could turn from Middle East oil to other sources of energy. But how many years will it take for the United States to convert to nuclear, solar, or other energy? And how does one run the family automobile this winter on anything but gasoline?

Yes, eventually, as Mr. Nixon noted, the Arabs "will lose their markets" if they drive too hard a bargain, but "eventually" won't help Mr. Nixon please the American voters this coming winter. He must bargain with the Arabs right now. And that means that he must pick up the leverage over Israel he put aside in 1972. This last week, he did it. It means that everyone will be present to get down to real business about an Arab-Israel settlement.

Water District Due Bouquet For Education

Regardless of one's politics, the Marin Municipal Water District should be commended by the entire community for its educational aids on water conservation.

Because we Americans take water for granted and assume its unending flow from the faucet, we have forgotten earth's water is a closed cycle, neither gaining nor losing a single drop. In the time our population had doubled we were already using 10 times as much water and polluting it as well.

The MMWD deserves bouquets for making us aware of our enormous waste of water.

Motives Behind Recall Move Puzzling

A very important election will be held in Corte Madera on Sept. 18. It is hoped that all citizens will realize the importance and go to the polls and vote.

A small, sophisticated and articulate minority is attempting the recall of Mayor Norville and Councilmen Colthurst and Wagstaff, on numerous charges. They discount the Hahn project and open space controversies as being the sole reasons and state the primary concern is "about a truly representative town government where citizens may participate in the decisions . . ."

This is somewhat puzzling, since the present council meetings are open to the public and have always presented a forum for all citizens.

Apparently, this minority has something more in mind, such as having a town council which will be answerable only to them, or a select committee thereof. This is a subtle effort to change our form of town government and should alert and alarm all concerned citizens.

Messrs. Colthurst, Wagstaff and Norville have unselfishly served the community for seven to 15 years. Where has this recall group been all this time? To attach the stigma of recall to these gentlemen is shameful and grossly unfair, since a decent and fair opportunity presents itself in the April general election, when their terms expire . . .

Should We Make It Easy For Bridge Suicides?

As we approach the 500 mark in the tally of bridge suicides, and the need for a net is suggested by some, this thought occurs. Mind you, I feel deeply about anyone who is not courageous enough to face reality, but to dissuade those with suicidal intent at the expense of the rest of us warrants this suggestion.

Why not a diving board, lockers in which to place personal effects, note paper appropriately engraved with a picture of the bridge; at much less expense and might be a deterrent because of the embarrassment. If not, then those who feel the need for self-destruction would satisfy their urge in another way — God forbid that they choose a skyscraper with innocent pedestrians likely victims.

Believe me, I am deeply sorry for those of us who lack the courage to see life through to the end God has chosen for us, as it takes a whale of a lot more courage.

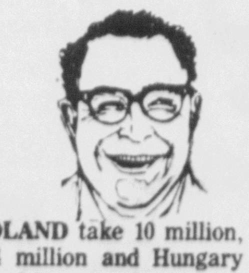
Can Kremlin Force Russians To Be Gluttons For Punishment?



WASHINGTON — Everyone says the Russians made a great coup by buying up the United States' wheat crop for the next three years. But it is causing tremendous problems there that have not been publicized. A transcript of a recent meeting in Moscow of the Politburo reveals that the Soviet wheat deal is creating an unbearable strain on the Russian consumer. Here are excerpts of the meeting:

"Comrades, our citizens are complaining because we are making them eat three loaves of bread a day."

"So what? Don't they realize we are destroying American economy?"

"Is true, but our citizens are not used to eating so much bread. We can't even give it away."

"DID YOU GIVE orders that all factory workers must eat two hero sandwiches for lunch?"

"Yes, comrade. We also directed that every Soviet citizen must consume a dozen wheat cakes for breakfast. But we still can't use up all the wheat we bought from the United States."

"What about bread pudding?"

"Every restaurant in the country has been ordered to serve 3,000 gallons of bread pudding a day. In Leningrad last week they had a bread pudding revolt and 15 militiamen were drowned in the vats at the Marx-Engles Baking Co. The leaders of the demonstration, of course, have been arrested."

"What did you do to them?"

"They've been given life on bread and water."

"Good. But, Comrades, if they revolt in Leningrad, they could revolt anywhere. We must find ways of using up wheat surpluses. How many tons have we been able to force on the satellite countries?"

"WE MADE POLAND take 10 million, Czechoslovakia 14 million and Hungary 12 million. We asked Tito to take some of it off our hands, but you can guess what he told us to do with our wheat."

"He's a crusty old guy."

"Why don't we send our Ilushyin bombers over Belgrade and dump several million tons on him?"

"Is bad for world public opinion. We would be accused of using wheat-germ warfare."

"Well, who has any better ideas?"

"Why not fill our MIRV missiles with cream of wheat and shoot at China?"

"It could hurt the U.S.-Soviet detente. Comrades, the only answer is that we must force higher wheat consumption at home."

"But how?"

"DURING THE DEPRESSION in the United States they set up bread lines all over the country. Why don't we do the same thing here?"

"But that was because they had no bread."

"Principle is the same. In Soviet Union anyone who doesn't get into bread line will be shot."

"Is good idea. Why not also announce anyone who goes on diet will be sent to Siberia."

"We must make Soviet people realize that for every bowl of shredded wheat they eat, an American capitalist will starve. And for every bread crumb they consume we will be one step closer to the worldwide Socialist revolution."

Nixon Must End Isolation; Press Conferences Will Help

If there is anything a President needs — and of course he needs a great deal of many things — it is knowledge of how the country is feeling.

Contact and openness produce such knowledge. That is why the resumption of the presidential press conference will help. So will the sessions between President Nixon and various members of Congress, and any other measures which will reduce the state of siege at the White House and the other presidential residences.

The public opinion polls are not good enough. They may be reasonably accurate. But they are cold and impersonal.

The White House press summary, however skillfully done, is not good enough either. It just isn't the same as first-hand information, or even reading things in their original context, or watching a TV program in the midst of its ineffable interruptions. (The President must have been watching the tube somewhat. Otherwise, how did he know enough to accuse the commentators of "leers and sneers"?)

THE PRESIDENT CLOSEST in touch with public opinion in this century was Franklin Roosevelt, even more than Lyndon Johnson, with his pockets stuffed with polls. President Roosevelt held two press conferences a week, at which he was confronted by questions reflecting the interests of news editors all across the country. FDR vastly enjoyed the press conferences, bantering gaily, avoiding questions deftly when he chose, playing on the media like a virtuoso on a violin.

Franklin Roosevelt also had a lot of blunt, well-informed advisers, who gave him frank and often conflicting views. Early in his term he had a "no" man, Louis Howe, who kept him from many mistakes. But in addition, there was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Her frequent trips throughout the country produced a steady flow of information on people's thoughts and problems. They were not always right, but they were first-hand. They gave her husband the feel of the country, when she would corner him in front of the fireplace before dinner and lecture him. It was invaluable.

RICHARD NIXON has been in a kind of relative isolation for some months now. Perhaps he needs some of this. Nobody would begrudge a man the time to think quietly by himself. But he also needs as much personal contact as possible with people who will be frank with him. He needs the feel of the country. That you cannot get by flying around in Air Force One, however frequently, or staying in carefully sheltered compounds in Florida or California or the Catoctin Mountains. Or even by driving on the California freeways, although even that might help.

Quite seriously, Julie Nixon Eisenhower's sorties out into the country and contact with a wide variety of people including interviews, may help her father very much. She will do well to listen to what she hears, and he will do well to listen to her.

A PRESIDENT'S sense of the mood of the country is a subtle thing. It isn't necessarily very rational. It has to be pretty selfless: A sense of how the other person is feeling, a sense of the general fitness of things and how they appear to others. During the student troubles of 1969-71 President Nixon often rubbed young people the wrong way. He needn't have. No point of principle important to him was involved in these remarks. He said thinks in his latest press conference about Congress that didn't need to be said quite that way. A more intuitive awareness of the state of mind and emotion of other people would have made a big difference.

Perhaps President Nixon will be encouraged by the success of his press conferences, and by his discussions with congressional leaders, to plunge forward into a re-opening of the White House and of himself to the flow of the nation's mood. He will find, of course, an ardent hard core of Nixon loyalists who will tell him, as one lady wrote me the other day, that he is the greatest President the United States has ever had. He will find others, I believe a majority, who are deeply concerned about his leadership and would like to see it rehabilitated. He alone can accomplish the rehabilitation, and it will require the utmost openness.

Another thing wrong with the environment is that we're surrounded by too many books about sex.

Folks who spend all their time writing or reading about something don't have time to do it.

No wonder Adam and Eve got along so well. There weren't any typewriters in the Garden of Eden.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By JEFF GREER

Hayburners Are Now Becoming As Expensive As Gas-Eaters

For years, in the face of rising commuting costs, I've threatened to trot to work on a "sport model jackass."

The Greers already own two dandy donkeys, but we're afraid to venture far on them because the freeways are banned to "nonmotorized traffic" or to anything with less than 15 horsepower. Pamela and Roberta, naturally, have somewhat less than 15 horsepower, though judging by their pranks I think each has the brainpower of a whole herd of horses.

So, they grow sassy and mischievous with no heavier tasks than to be four-legged lawnmowers. Trouble is, they're too good at that. We have to go out and buy hay for them this time of the year.

NOT ONLY IS HAY almost impossibly scarce, but it's getting as expensive as gasoline.

"It's $90 a ton," mourned one stable owner the other day," and likely to get worse before the next crop." He said his small stock of hay was being pilfered so badly he had to hide it.

That $90 a ton figures out to 4.5 cents a pound. Gasoline comes to about 6 cents a pound, but a pound of gasoline seems to get more miles, and better speed than a pound of hay.

So, guess I'll quit threatening to sell off the family car and to put Pamela to work.

ANOTHER OF THE problems of Marin living received somewhat garish treatment from Pacific Sun columnist Judith Weston a few days ago. Apparently discouraged by sitting all day in front of the Co-Op store in Corte Madera trying to hawk a litter of unwanted puppies, she came up with the idea that cosmopolitan Marinites should solve the meat shortage by eating dogs.

True, it's done in the Philippine Islands and other parts of the world. Humane officers even are being asked to investigate a case in Union City over in Alameda County, of a gent who advertises in local shoppers for unwanted puppies and then barbecues 'em. But I doubt Marinites would want to eat even that neighborhood pest that messes up their lawns.

WHAT BUGS ME mightily is why so many so-called nature lovers keep on letting their pets procreate — and then complain about not being able to get rid of the puppies or kittens.

Relatively low-cost spaying and neutering are available from several sources in Marin. One private veterinarian specializes in it. The Animal Medical Care Foundation arranges for low-cost surgery at almost any veterinarian hospital in Marin if the owner can't afford the going rate. And the Marin County Humane Society again will offer this service when it can hire another veterinarian. The society's fledgling program lost its surgeon and all September appointments had to be canceled, I've heard.

ITT Merger Case Won't Be Reopened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson has decided to let stand the 1971 out-of-court settlement of the controversial ITT merger case.

Richardson, who said he made his decision after a review of the case by the Justice Department's antitrust division, contended that by reopening the case "the public interest would not be served and could well be injured."

Richardson's decision was contained in a letter to Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., made public yesterday during a Senate Judiciary Committee confirmation hearing on the nomination of William D. Ruckelshaus to be deputy attorney general.

Tunney had requested Richardson to review the settlement because of possible "election improprieties" and "perjury" which may have been involved in the ITT matter.

The government settlement of the case, announced July 31, 1971, allowed the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. to merge with the Hartford Fire Insurance Company in one of the largest corporate mergers in history.

The merger became an explosive issue last year when it was charged that the settlement may have been linked with a pledge by the Sheraton Corp. of America, an ITT subsidiary, to underwrite a large part of the funds needed to hold the Republican National Convention in San Diego, Calif. The ITT settlement became final eight days before the GOP National Committee announced the selection of San Diego as the site of its party's 1972 presidential convention. The site was later switched to Miami.

In his letter to Tunney, Richardson said that "any questions of election improprieties or perjury...will be explored" by Watergate, Specia Prosecutor Archibald Cox.

Defense Cut Called For By Humphrey

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Between $5 billion and $7 billion should be cut from President Nixon's defense budget and diverted to domestic programs, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, DMinn., told delegates to the Minnesota AFL-CIO convention yesterday.

Humphrey said the Democratic controlled Congress cannot cooperate with the President until cuts in the $85 billion defense budget are made.

"I am prepared to cooperate, to listen to the President's recommendations and views," Humphrey said. "I even am prepared to bend his way but I am not prepared to roll over."

"I believe in a strong militarty," he added, "but we don't need to step up every weapons system. That defense budget can be reduced by $5 to $7 billion without cutting into the muscle of our defense—and that money transferred to the real needs of our country.

"I intend to see that it's done."

Humphrey accused the administration of attempting to make Congress appear irresponsible for demanding defense cuts to divert attention from its own Watergate difficulties.

President Nixon has brought "heartache, economic troubles and shame to the White House," he said.

He also attacked the administration for inflation, last year's grain sale to the Soviet Union and the economic stabilization program.

New Medical Service Bill Being Drawn Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supporters of a $185 million medical services bill vetoed by President Nixon are gearing up an effort to pass a substitute version which would meet Nixon's objections.

On a 273 to 144 vote yesterday, the House sustained the President's rejection of the emergency medical Services Act. The House action fell five votes short of the needed two-thirds majority of those voting to override and was the fifth consecutive time that a Nixon veto had been sustained this year. The Senate had voted earlier 77-16 to override the veto.

Voting yesterday in the House to override the President's veto were Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth Dist., and Rep. Don Clausen, R-First Dist.

The Medical Services bill would have authorized $185 million over three years in grants to communities to improve ambulance services, emergency room equipment and to train medical specialists in handling heart attack and traffic accident victims.

A second provision of the measure, which led to its death, would have mandated Nixon to keep in operation eight public health service hospitals he said should be transferred over to local control or else be shut down.

A group of 50 Republicans Tuesday introduced a substitute bill carrying only the $185 million authorization for grants and deleting the PHS hospitals mandate.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he would personally urge Nixon to accept the GOP substitute if the veto was sustained. After the House vote, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., introduced a bill identical to the Republican substitute and said he would push for immediate Senate action on the bill.

AWOL NATO Care WAC snafu

Hail the Acronym

Newspaper readers have noticed the amazing increase in the number of words created out of abbreviations. This practice became popular in the U.S. during World War II, when terms such as "snafu" (Situation Normal, All Fouled Up) and "radar" (Radio Detection and Ranging) came into use. Often, the original meaning is forgotten. How many know that "Care" originally stood for "Co-operative for American Remittances to Everywhere"? These terms are known as acronyms; one of the latest is MIRV (Multiple Independently Targeted Reentry Vehicle), a type of warhead.

DO YOU KNOW — What does the acronym NATO stand for?

It's really more fun to make money than to lose money. And it's easier, too. But you'd never know it from watching the wonderful ways people find to throw away their money.

Like building an apartment over the San Andreas Fault.

Why not make money the easy way? Just open an account at Ross Valley Savings. We pay between 5¼% and 7½% a year, and your savings are insured to $20,000 by an agency of the Federal Government.

If it's free "extras" you're after, try these:

Free notary service* • Free travelers checks* • Free money orders* • Free note collection* • Free redemption of U.S. Savings Bonds • Free copy service • Free check-a-month plan • Free transfer of funds • Free save-by-mail • Free interbranch deposits/withdrawals • Free Savings counseling. Another Supply Store Is Slated

There soon will be another Goodman home supply store in Marin, but it will have no connection with Goodman Builders Emporium in San Rafael and Goodman Building Supply Co. in Mill Valley.

The former Lee Brothers Market building at 950 Seventh Street, Novato, has been leased to Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Clumeck Jr. of San Francisco, and will open about Oct. 1 as Goodman's Home Center.

However, according to Steven W. Bauer of San Rafael, vice president of Goodman Builders Emporium, there is no connection between the new store and the Goodman stores in San Rafael and Mill Valley, which are operated by separate but associated companies.

The Clumecks are forming a new corporation to operate the Novato store. Clumeck could not be reached for further details.

INVENTOR FORMS COMPANY — Dr. Alan B. Scott of Mill Valley, an ophthalmologist who practices in San Francisco, is forming a corporation to market his own invention: a lighted microscope which fits on the surgeon's own spectacles while he is performing eye operations.

Dr. Scott has made several of these for friends in the profession, according to Mrs. Scott, and is incorporating as Surgical Optics Co. to meet possible wider demand.

NOT A TRAVEL AGENCY by a travel consultant — which can do the same things for you —is the new business of Ida Lee Nagel of Corte Madera. Mrs. Nagel will operate the business as Paradise Travel Consultant out of her home at 58 Granada Drive.

RON MARINOFF and LARRY KEENEY of Lucas Valley will co-chair the third annual Home Furnishings All-Industry Seminar at Lake Tahoe, Sept. 30-Oct. 3, sponsored by the Home Furnishings Representatives Association of Northern California. . .PHIL BUCHANAN of Stinson Beach has joined radio station KSAN, San Francisco, as public service director. He had been a disc jockey with San Francisco station KSFX since early last year. . .JOHN M. Feeble Attempt At Rally Falls Short On Market

On the NYSE, Telex was down ¼ to 4¼ in what analysts described as profit taking. The issue has risen for the past few sessions in expectation of an imminent judgement on Telex's antitrust suit against IBM.

Other Big Board prices included Chase Manhattan, up 2 to 52¾ on news its expected to achieve good earnings; International Telephone, up ¾ to 30¾; Union Carbide, off ¼ to 36; Texaco, down ¼ to 29⅝; and RCA, down ¼ to 24.

Saigon Will Join BankAmericard

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — BankAmericard will soon become the first bank credit card accepted in Saigon, Vietnam, and in Seoul, Korea, Bank of America has reported.

Bank of America branches are now enlisting merchants in both Asian cities. The program is expected to be operational in October.

First In Nation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Electric Light Co., was incprporated in 1879 and is said to have been the world's first central generating plant to sell electricity to regular customers.

PROMOTED BY SP — Robert C. Hudson of San Rafael has been named assistant vice president-traffic of Southern Pacific Transportation Co. for rate and division activities for the railroad's 12-state system. His headquarters will be in San Francisco. He has been general traffic manager since mid-1971.

A new Pontiac option for 1974 is the GTO which is available on Ventura, Ventura Custom Coupes and Hatchbacks. Standard equipment on the Mustang II includes front manual disc brakes, rack-and-pinion steering, four-speed manual transmission, thickly padded bucket seats, cut-pile carpeting and a 2.3-liter four cylinder engine which delivers 20 miles per gallon in normal city and suburban driving. Option engine is a 2.8-liter V-6 powerplant. Ford dealers in Marin are Lyons-Ryan Ford in San Rafael, J & B Ford Sales in Corte Madera and Novato Auto Sales.

Retirement Fund Change Needed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Approximately 20 years ago I purchased toward retirement shares of Axe-Houghton Fund A. In early 1969 I had 1000 shares at $10.40 per share, a tidy sum. A copy of my latest statement is enclosed showing my current holdings. All distributions have been reinvested. Am I unwise to go on hoping and holding for recovery? — E.B.

A. This balanced fund has certainly not had a very impressive record since the highs of 1968-69. In fact, in your case the decline from that point has reduced the value of your holdings 40 per cent. Performance in the decade ended 1969 was average for this type of fund.

As of May 31, 1973, Axe-Houghton A's portfolio consisted of 44 per cent common stock, 13 per cent bonds, 22 per cent convertible bonds and preferred stock and 21 per cent cash and certificates of deposit. The straight bonds in the portfolio were largely lower quality with ratings BB or lower, although among those bonds acquired in the past year a significant improvement in quality was apparent.

Nonetheless, this segment is studded with issues which are currently well below their cost price. This also holds true for a large part of the fund's other securities.

The 10 largest holdings represent 18 per cent of total net assets and include: Bethlehem Steel, IU International, Kirby Industries and Missouri Pacific 5s of 2045 rated CC. Shares are not suited to your financial program and should be redeemed.

Q. Over a period of years I have purchased and acquired through splits and rights offerings 1,200 shares of an A-rated industrial. The return on these shares is only 3.4 per cent and being retired I need a higher yield. This one stock represents more than two-thirds of my portfolio. I hesitate to sell because of capital gains. Have you a suggestion? — F.H.

A. I would advise sale of 400 of your most costly shares at this time with a similar reduction in a year, thus spreading the tax bite. As a replacement you should investigate high-yield bonds.

East Texas Field Still Among Biggest

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UPI) — The East Texas Oilfield, discovered in 1931 by wildcatter C.M. Dad Joiner, was the largest known oil field in the world for decades.

Discovery of several larger oil fields in the Middle East during the 1960s shoved the East Texas field down among the ranks. It still is the largest field in the United States.

Keep warm. Have your furnace checked before the cold sets in. Clean or replace your filters—dirty filters waste energy and increase your heating bill. Be sure wall and floor furnaces are free of lint and dirt.

Shut out the cold. Close your drapes at night. Let in the warm by keeping your drapes open during the day. This will help reduce your other heating needs.

Avoid extremes. Set your thermostat at a comfortable setting. Leave it there except when you go to bed at night. Frequent changes waste gas and increase your heating bill.
